08/04/2021	text/html	68-year-old with previous history of stroke and question of very small aneurysms. She was formally a patient of Dr. Lee and old records are lacking at this point. She reports having a neurologic episode some 10 years ago that resolved letter V records regarding that sounds like she may have been given TPA and shipped to Fort Wayne. While under the care of Dr. Lee she had an MR angiogram which apparently revealed 2 very small aneurysms approximately 3 mm. She was evaluated by neurosurgery who was not impressed with these and recommended that she have follow-up in a couple years.	Patrick D Reibold, MD 250 W 96th St, Suite 520, Indianapolis, IN, 46260-4803, US	IN - Ascension - Indiana	08/04/2021 13:14:23
03/16/2022	text/html	Follow-up history of stroke and questionable aneurysm. Since last visit the patient has been neurologically stable she has not had any new neurologic symptoms. Blood pressures been under control. She continues on aspirin and Plavix. Patient saw neurosurgery a year or 2 ago and her son mention of possible cavernoma's the report I have the MR 8 performed at Logansport Memorial years ago was normal. There is a recommendation that she have a CTA in a couple years.	Patrick D Reibold, MD 250 W 96th St, Suite 520, Indianapolis, IN, 46260-4803, US	IN - Ascension - Indiana	03/16/2022 11:23:35
11/20/2023	text/html	80-year-old patient presented to my office today for evaluation with regard to bilateral carotid stenosis and this was incidentally noticed on recent ultrasound. She denies any symptoms related to this she had mild-moderate stenosis on the left side versus the right side.	George Sheng, MD 250 W 96th St, Suite 520, Indianapolis, IN, 46260-4803, US	IN - Ascension - Indiana	11/20/2023 10:44:35
12/13/2024	text/html	Ms. Berry is a pleasant 71-year-old patient of Dr. Sheng who he met as a new patient last year with a carotid ultrasound stating mild bilateral carotid artery occlusive disease on an outside study. She returns today. She denies any focal neurologic changes consistent with a TIA or stroke or any episodes of amaurosis fugax. She denies any chest pain or shortness of breath. She continues with her antiplatelet and statin therapy. She is currently eating a vegetarian diet and trying to take very good care of herself. She denies any interval health changes or hospitalizations.	Katiri Elkins, NP 250 W 96th St, Suite 520, Indianapolis, IN, 46260-4803, US	IN - Ascension - Indiana	12/13/2024 09:58:20

(BD Bone Density DEXA Axial Skeleton) screening for osteoporosis, history of fracture

Radiology Report
EXAMINATION: DEXA BONE SCAN BODY

DATE OF EXAM: 7/20/2022 1:26 PM
CURRENT HISTORY: Female, 69 years old. Osteoporosis screening. Postmenopausal.
PREVIOUS HISTORY: As above.
TECHNIQUE: DXA scan was obtained in correspondence with the recommendations of the World Health Organization and interpretation is accordance with the International Society of Clinical Densitometry 2007 and 2010 consensus statements.

World Health Organization guidelines:
Age-matched gender matched patients (menopausal transition or postmenopausal females and men over 50)
Normal bone mineral density = greater than or equal to -1.0 T-score.
Low bone mass = less than -1.0 through -2.5 T-score value.
Osteoporosis = less than or equal to -2.5 T-score.

PERFORMING SITE/MACHINE: Logansport Memorial Hospital; GE Lunar

COMPARISON: None.

FINDINGS:

SPINE: L1-L4
T-score current: -0.4
BMD (g/cm2) current: 1.146

LEFT FEMORAL NECK:
T-score current: -1.1

Bone Density

LEFT TOTAL FEMUR:
T-score current: -0.5
BMD (g/cm2) current: 0.939

RIGHT TOTAL FEMUR:
T-score current: -1.3
BMD (g/cm2) current: 0.843

Right femoral neck WHO FRAX score:
FRAX calculation based on the lowest femoral neck BMD using the WHO fracture risk assessment tool (http://www.shef.ac.uk/FRAX/tool.jsp)
Major osteoporotic: 8.3 % (greater than or equal 20% = consider medication)
Hip fracture: 0.9 % (greater than or equal 3% = consider medication)

The National Osteoporosis Foundation (NOF) using FRAX to assist with treatment decision when the following are true:
1. Untreated postmenopausal woman or a man age 50 or older.
2. Low bone mass/osteopenia (T-score between -1 and -2.5).
3. No prior hip or vertebral fracture.
4. An evaluable hip for DXA study (i.e. no bilateral prostheses).

IMPRESSION:

1. Osteopenia (low bone density) based on lowest T-score value of -1.3 at right femoral neck and right total femur.

2. No prior or prior not comparable.

3. Does not meet NOF threshold for medication therapy; however, other clinical factors may supersede this recommendation. National Osteoporosis Foundation (NOF) recommends considering drug therapy for osteopenia (T score -1 to -2.5) in individuals with estimated 10 year hip fracture greater than or equal 3% or major osteoporotic related fracture greater than or equal 20%. Follow up scan in 18-24 months or as clinically indicated.

(CT Angio Brain/Head) Cerebral aneurysm, follow-up

Radiology Report
EXAMINATION: CTA HEAD
Date: 7/20/2022 1:36 PM
History: Female, 69 years old. History of CVA. Evaluation for cerebral aneurysm.

COMPARISON: None.

Technique: Intravenous contrast was administered and imaging of the neck and head was obtained during the arterial phase of the contrast bolus. Two-dimensional and 3-D MIP images for post processing were performed and reviewed. Vessel analysis software was utilized to calculate the minor and major diameter measurements in areas of arterial stenosis. One or more of these dose optimization techniques were utilized: Automated exposure control; mA and/or kV adjustment per patient size (includes targeted exams where dose is matched to clinical indication); or iterative reconstruction. 100 cc of Isovue-370 were administered for this exam.

FINDINGS:

CTA HEAD:
Intracranial arteries:

Internal carotid arteries: Vascular plaque is present involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs. The degree of stenosis is estimated at less than 50% bilaterally.

Anterior cerebral arteries: Widely patent.

Middle cerebral arteries: Widely patent.

Posterior circulation: Widely patent.

Circle of Willis: Normal anatomic variability.

Vertebrobasilar system: Widely patent.

Brain parenchyma: Unremarkable arterial phase, postcontrast appearance.
Extra-axial structures: Unremarkable.

Additional comments: None.

IMPRESSION:
1. No obvious intracranial aneurysm demonstrated on this study. No aneurysms are identified on previous imaging. If the patient has outside imaging demonstrating an aneurysm, we would be happy to review that study and compare to the current exam to discuss a possible very small aneurysm not well demonstrated on this exam.

2. Vascular disease involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs without evidence of a greater than 50% stenosis.

Displaced Medial or Posterior Malleolar Ankle Fracture Treated With ORIF, Care After

This sheet gives you information about how to care for yourself after your procedure. Your health care provider may also give you more specific instructions. If you have problems or questions, contact your health care provider.

What can I expect after the procedure?

After the procedure, it is common to have:

- Pain.
- Swelling.
- A small amount of fluid from your incision.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a boot:

- Wear the boot as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.
- Loosen the boot if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.
- Keep the boot clean.
- If the boot is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

If you have a cast:

- Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk of infection.
- Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.
- You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.
- Keep the cast clean.
- If the cast is not waterproof:

- Do not let it get wet.
- Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

Bathing

- Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you can take showers.
- If your boot or cast is not waterproof, cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.
- Keep the bandage (dressing) dry until your health care provider says it can be removed.

Incision care

- Follow instructions from your health care provider about how to take care of your incision. Make sure you:
  - Wash your hands with soap and water before you change your dressing. If soap and water are not available, use hand sanitizer.
  - Change your dressing as told by your health care provider.
  - Leave stitches (sutures), skin glue, or adhesive strips in place. These skin closures may need to stay in place for 2 weeks or longer. If adhesive strip edges start to loosen and curl up, you may trim the loose edges. Do not remove adhesive strips completely unless your health care provider tells you to do that.
- Check your incision area every day for signs of infection. Check for:
  - Redness.
  - More pain or swelling.
  - Blood or more fluid.
  - Warmth.
  - Pus or a bad smell.

Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling

- If directed, put ice on the affected area.
  - If you have a removable boot, remove it as told by your health care provider.
  - Put ice in a plastic bag.
  - Place a towel between your skin and the bag or between your cast and the bag.
  - Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.
- Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.
- Raise (elevate) the injured area above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down. To do this, try putting a few pillows under your leg and ankle.

Driving

- Do not drive or use heavy machinery while taking prescription pain medicine.
- Ask your health care provider when it is safe to drive if you have a boot or cast on your foot.

Activity

- Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.
- Do exercises as told by your health care provider or physical therapist.
- Do not use your injured limb to support (bear) your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Follow weight-bearing restrictions as told. Use crutches or other devices to help you move around (assistive devices) as directed.

General instructions

- Do not put pressure on any part of the cast until it is fully hardened. This may take several hours.
- Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider.
- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- If you are taking prescription pain medicine, take actions to prevent or treat constipation. Your health care provider may recommend that you:

- Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
- Eat foods that are high in fiber, such as fresh fruits and vegetables, whole grains, and beans.
- Limit foods that are high in fat and processed sugars, such as fried or sweet foods.
- Take an over-the-counter or prescription medicine for constipation.

- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

- You have a fever.
- Your pain medicine is not helping.
- You have redness around your incision.
- You have more swelling or pain around your incision.
- You have blood or more fluid coming from your incision or leaking through your cast.
- Your incision feels warm to the touch.
- You have pus or a bad smell coming from your incision or dressings.

Get help right away if:

- The edges of your incision come apart after the stitches or staples have been taken out.
- You have chest pain.
- You have difficulty breathing.
- You have numbness or tingling in your foot or leg.
- Your foot becomes cold, pale, or blue.

Summary

- After the procedure, it is common to have some pain and swelling.
- If your boot or cast is not waterproof, do not let it get wet.
- Contact your health care provider if you have severe pain or swelling, or if you have more fluids coming from your incision or leaking through your cast.
- Get help right away if you have numbness or tingling in your foot or leg, or if your foot becomes cold, pale, or blue.

General Anesthesia, Adult, Care After

This sheet gives you information about how to care for yourself after your procedure. Your health care provider may also give you more specific instructions. If you have problems or questions, contact your health care provider.

What can I expect after the procedure?

After the procedure, the following side effects are common:

- Pain or discomfort at the IV site.
- Nausea.
- Vomiting.
- Sore throat.
- Trouble concentrating.
- Feeling cold or chills.
- Weak or tired.
- Sleepiness and fatigue.
- Soreness and body aches. These side effects can affect parts of the body that were not involved in surgery.

Follow these instructions at home:

For at least 24 hours after the procedure:

- Have a responsible adult stay with you. It is important to have someone help care for you until you are awake and alert.
- Rest as needed.
- Do not:
  - Participate in activities in which you could fall or become injured.
  - Drive.
  - Use heavy machinery.
  - Drink alcohol.

- Take sleeping pills or medicines that cause drowsiness.
- Make important decisions or sign legal documents.
- Take care of children on your own.

Eating and drinking

- Follow any instructions from your health care provider about eating or drinking restrictions.
- When you feel hungry, start by eating small amounts of foods that are soft and easy to digest (bland), such as toast. Gradually return to your regular diet.
- Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
- If you vomit, rehydrate by drinking water, juice, or clear broth.

General instructions

- If you have sleep apnea, surgery and certain medicines can increase your risk for breathing problems. Follow instructions from your health care provider about wearing your sleep device:
  - Anytime you are sleeping, including during daytime naps.
  - While taking prescription pain medicines, sleeping medicines, or medicines that make you drowsy.
- Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.
- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- If you smoke, do not smoke without supervision.
- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

- You have nausea or vomiting that does not get better with medicine.
- You cannot eat or drink without vomiting.
- You have pain that does not get better with medicine.
- You are unable to pass urine.
- You develop a skin rash.
- You have a fever.
- You have redness around your IV site that gets worse.

Get help right away if:

- You have difficulty breathing.
- You have chest pain.

- You have blood in your urine or stool, or you vomit blood.

Summary

- After the procedure, it is common to have a sore throat or nausea. It is also common to feel tired.
- Have a responsible adult stay with you for the first 24 hours after general anesthesia. It is important to have someone help care for you until you are awake and alert.
- When you feel hungry, start by eating small amounts of foods that are soft and easy to digest (bland), such as toast. Gradually return to your regular diet.
- Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
- Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.

This information is not intended to replace advice given to you by your health care provider. Make sure you discuss any questions you have with your health care provider.

Metatarsal Fracture

A metatarsal fracture is a break in one of the five bones that connect the toes to the rest of the foot. This may also be called a forefoot fracture. A metatarsal fracture may be:

- A crack in the surface of the bone (stress fracture). This often occurs in athletes.
- A break all the way through the bone (complete fracture).

The bone that connects to the little toe (fifth metatarsal) is most commonly fractured. Ballet dancers often fracture this bone.

What are the causes?

A metatarsal fracture may be caused by:

- Sudden twisting of the foot.

- Falling onto the foot.
- Something heavy falling onto the foot.
- Overuse or repetitive exercise.

What increases the risk?

This condition is more likely to develop in people who:

- Play contact sports.
- Do ballet.
- Have a condition that causes the bones to become thin and brittle (osteoporosis).
- Have a low calcium level.

What are the signs or symptoms?

Symptoms of this condition include:

- Pain that gets worse when walking or standing.
- Pain when pressing on the foot or moving the toes.
- Swelling.
- Bruising on the top or bottom of the foot.

How is this diagnosed?

This condition may be diagnosed based on:

- Your symptoms.
- Any recent foot injuries you have had.
- A physical exam.
- An X-ray of your foot. If you have a stress fracture, it may not show up on an X-ray, and you may need other imaging tests, such as:
  - A bone scan.
  - CT scan.
  - MRI.

How is this treated?

Treatment depends on how severe your fracture is and how the pieces of the broken bone line up with each other (alignment). Treatment may involve:

- Wearing a cast, splint, or supportive boot on your foot.
- Using crutches, and not putting any weight on your foot.
- Having surgery to align broken bones (open reduction and internal fixation, ORIF).
- Physical therapy.
- Follow-up visits and X-rays to make sure you are healing.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a splint or a supportive boot:

- Wear the splint or boot as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.
- Loosen the splint or boot if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.
- Keep the splint or boot clean.
- If your splint or boot is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

If you have a cast:

- Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk for infection.
- Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.
- You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.
- Keep the cast clean.
- If the cast is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

Activity

- Do not use your affected leg to support your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Use crutches as directed.
- Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you during recovery, and ask what activities you need to avoid.
- Do physical therapy exercises as directed.

Driving

- Do not drive or use heavy machinery while taking pain medicine.
- Do not drive while wearing a cast, splint, or boot on a foot that you use for driving.

Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling

- If directed, put ice on painful areas:
  - Put ice in a plastic bag.
  - Place a towel between your skin and the bag.
    - If you have a removable splint or boot, remove it as told by your health care provider.
    - If you have a cast, place a towel between your cast and the bag.
  - Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.
- Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.
- Raise (elevate) your lower leg above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down.

General instructions

- Do not put pressure on any part of the cast or splint until it is fully hardened. This may take several hours.
- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider.
- Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you may take showers.
- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if you have:

- Pain that gets worse or does not get better with medicine.

- A fever.
- A bad smell coming from your cast or splint.

Get help right away if you have:

- Any of the following in your toes or your foot, even after loosening your splint (if applicable):
  - Numbness.
  - Tingling.
  - Coldness.
  - Blue skin.
- Redness or swelling that gets worse.
- Pain that suddenly becomes severe.

Summary

- A metatarsal fracture is a break in one of the five bones that connect the toes to the rest of the foot.
- Treatment depends on how severe your fracture is and how the pieces of the broken bone line up with each other (alignment). This may include wearing a cast, splint, or supportive boot, or using crutches. Sometimes surgery is needed to align the bones.
- Ice and elevate your foot to help lessen the pain and swelling.
- Make sure you know what symptoms should cause you to get help right away.

This information is not intended to replace advice given to you by your health care provider. Make sure you discuss any questions you have with your health care provider.

Ankle Fracture

The ankle joint is made up of the lower (distal) sections of your lower leg bones (tibia and fibula) along with a bone in your foot (talus). An ankle fracture is a break in one, two, or all three of these sections of bone. There are two general types of ankle fractures:

- Stable fracture. This happens when one of your bones is broken, but the bones of your ankle joint stay in their normal positions.
- Unstable fracture. This type can include more than one broken bone. It can also happen if your outer bone is broken and the tough bands of tissue that connect bones (ligaments) are also injured at your inner ankle. This type of fracture allows the talus to move out of its normal position.

What are the causes?

This condition may be caused by:

- A hard, direct hit (blow) to the ankle.
- Quickly and severely twisting your ankle, often while your foot is planted and the rest of your body moving.
- Trauma, such as a car accident or falling from a height.

What increases the risk?

This condition is more likely to occur in people who:

- Smoke.
- Are overweight.
- Participate in sports that involve quick direction changes, as in soccer.
- Do high-impact sports like gymnastics or football.
- Are involved in a high-impact car accident.

What are the signs or symptoms?

Symptoms of this condition include:

- Tender and swollen ankle.
- Bruising around the injured ankle.
- Pain when moving or pressing on the ankle.
- Trouble walking or using the ankle to support your body weight (putting weight on the ankle).
- Pain that gets worse when moving or standing and gets better with rest.

How is this diagnosed?

An ankle fracture is usually diagnosed with a physical exam and X-rays. A CT scan or MRI may also be done.

How is this treated?

Treatment for this condition depends on the type of ankle fracture you have. Stable fractures are treated with a cast, boot, or splint to hold the ankle still and crutches to avoid putting weight on the injured ankle until the fracture heals. Unstable fractures require surgery to ensure that the bones heal properly. After surgery, you will have a splint. After your incision is healed, your surgeon may give you a cast or a boot. You will not be able to put weight on your injured side for several weeks.

After your ankle has healed, you will do exercises to improve the strength and mobility of your ankle.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a splint:

- Wear the splint as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.
- Loosen the splint if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.
- Keep the splint clean.
- If the splint is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

If you have a cast:

- Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk of infection.
- Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.
- You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.
- Keep the cast clean.
- If the cast is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling

- If directed, put ice on the injured area:
  - If you have a removable splint, remove it as told by your health care provider.
  - Put ice in a plastic bag.
  - Place a towel between your skin and the bag or between your cast and the bag.
  - Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.
- Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.
- Raise (elevate) the injured area above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down.

General instructions

- Do not use the injured limb to support your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Use crutches as told by your health care provider
- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- Ask your health care provider when it is safe to drive if you have a cast or splint.
- Do exercises as told by your health care provider.

- Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider
- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

- You have pain or swelling that gets worse or does not get better with rest or medicine.

Get help right away if:

- Your cast gets damaged.
- You have severe pain that lasts.
- You develop new pain or swelling.
- Your skin or toenails below the injury turn blue or gray, feel cold, become numb, or have a loss of sensitivity to touch.

Summary

- An ankle fracture can either be stable or unstable. This is determined after a physical exam and imaging studies like X-rays, a CT scan, or MRI.
- Stable fractures are treated with a cast, boot, or splint to hold the ankle still until the fracture heals. Unstable fractures require surgery to ensure that the bones heal properly.
- You will not be able to put weight on your injured side for several weeks.
- Pain medicines, icing, and raising (elevating) your injured ankle when sitting or lying down may help with pain relief. Follow instructions as told by your health care provider.

Patient Education Materials:
Metatarsal Fracture; Ankle Fracture

Metatarsal Fracture

A metatarsal fracture is a break in one of the five bones that connect the toes to the rest of the foot. This may also be called a forefoot fracture. A metatarsal fracture may be:

- A crack in the surface of the bone (stress fracture). This often occurs in athletes.
- A break all the way through the bone (complete fracture).

The bone that connects to the little toe (fifth metatarsal) is most commonly fractured. Ballet dancers often fracture this bone.

What are the causes?

A metatarsal fracture may be caused by:

- Sudden twisting of the foot.

- Falling onto the foot.
- Something heavy falling onto the foot.
- Overuse or repetitive exercise.

What increases the risk?

This condition is more likely to develop in people who:

- Play contact sports.
- Do ballet.
- Have a condition that causes the bones to become thin and brittle (osteoporosis).
- Have a low calcium level.

What are the signs or symptoms?

Symptoms of this condition include:

- Pain that gets worse when walking or standing.
- Pain when pressing on the foot or moving the toes.
- Swelling.
- Bruising on the top or bottom of the foot.

How is this diagnosed?

This condition may be diagnosed based on:

- Your symptoms.
- Any recent foot injuries you have had.
- A physical exam.
- An X-ray of your foot. If you have a stress fracture, it may not show up on an X-ray, and you may need other imaging tests, such as:
  - A bone scan.
  - CT scan.
  - MRI.

How is this treated?

Treatment depends on how severe your fracture is and how the pieces of the broken bone line up with each other (alignment). Treatment may involve:

- Wearing a cast, splint, or supportive boot on your foot.
- Using crutches, and not putting any weight on your foot.
- Having surgery to align broken bones (open reduction and internal fixation, ORIF).
- Physical therapy.
- Follow-up visits and X-rays to make sure you are healing.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a splint or a supportive boot:

- Wear the splint or boot as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.
- Loosen the splint or boot if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.
- Keep the splint or boot clean.
- If your splint or boot is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

If you have a cast:

- Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk for infection.
- Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.
- You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.
- Keep the cast clean.
- If the cast is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

Activity

- Do not use your affected leg to support your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Use crutches as directed.
- Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you during recovery, and ask what activities you need to avoid.
- Do physical therapy exercises as directed.

Driving

- Do not drive or use heavy machinery while taking pain medicine.
- Do not drive while wearing a cast, splint, or boot on a foot that you use for driving.

Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling

- If directed, put ice on painful areas:
  - Put ice in a plastic bag.
  - Place a towel between your skin and the bag.
    - If you have a removable splint or boot, remove it as told by your health care provider.
    - If you have a cast, place a towel between your cast and the bag.
  - Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.
- Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.
- Raise (elevate) your lower leg above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down.

General instructions

- Do not put pressure on any part of the cast or splint until it is fully hardened. This may take several hours.
- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider.
- Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you may take showers.

Displaced Medial or Posterior Malleolar Ankle Fracture Treated With ORIF, Care After

This sheet gives you information about how to care for yourself after your procedure. Your health care provider may also give you more specific instructions. If you have problems or questions, contact your health care provider.

What can I expect after the procedure?

After the procedure, it is common to have:

- Pain.
- Swelling.
- A small amount of fluid from your incision.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a boot:

- Wear the boot as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.
- Loosen the boot if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.
- Keep the boot clean.
- If the boot is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.

- Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

If you have a cast:

- Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk of infection.
- Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.
- You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.
- Keep the cast clean.
- If the cast is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

Bathing

- Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you can take showers.
- If your boot or cast is not waterproof, cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.
- Keep the bandage (dressing) dry until your health care provider says it can be removed.

Incision care

- Follow instructions from your health care provider about how to take care of your incision. Make sure you:
  - Wash your hands with soap and water before you change your dressing. If soap and water are not available, use hand sanitizer.
  - Change your dressing as told by your health care provider.

- Leave stitches (sutures), skin glue, or adhesive strips in place. These skin closures may need to stay in place for 2 weeks or longer. If adhesive strip edges start to loosen and curl up, you may trim the loose edges. Do not remove adhesive strips completely unless your health care provider tells you to do that.

- Check your incision area every day for signs of infection. Check for:
  - Redness.
  - More pain or swelling.
  - Blood or more fluid.
  - Warmth.
  - Pus or a bad smell.

Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling

- If directed, put ice on the affected area.
  - If you have a removable boot, remove it as told by your health care provider.
  - Put ice in a plastic bag.
  - Place a towel between your skin and the bag or between your cast and the bag.
  - Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.
- Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.
- Raise (elevate) the injured area above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down. To do this, try putting a few pillows under your leg and ankle.

Driving

- Do not drive or use heavy machinery while taking prescription pain medicine.
- Ask your health care provider when it is safe to drive if you have a boot or cast on your foot.

Activity

- Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.
- Do exercises as told by your health care provider or physical therapist.
- Do not use your injured limb to support (bear) your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Follow weight-bearing restrictions as told. Use crutches or other devices to help you move around (assistive devices) as directed.

General instructions

- Do not put pressure on any part of the cast until it is fully hardened. This may take several hours.
- Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider.
- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- If you are taking prescription pain medicine, take actions to prevent or treat constipation. Your health care provider may recommend that you:
  - Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
  - Eat foods that are high in fiber, such as fresh fruits and vegetables, whole grains, and beans.
  - Limit foods that are high in fat and processed sugars, such as fried or sweet foods.
  - Take an over-the-counter or prescription medicine for constipation.
- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

- You have a fever.
- Your pain medicine is not helping.
- You have redness around your incision.
- You have more swelling or pain around your incision.
- You have blood or more fluid coming from your incision or leaking through your cast.
- Your incision feels warm to the touch.
- You have pus or a bad smell coming from your incision or dressings.

Get help right away if:

- The edges of your incision come apart after the stitches or staples have been taken out.
- You have chest pain.
- You have difficulty breathing.

- You have numbness or tingling in your foot or leg.
- Your foot becomes cold, pale, or blue.

Summary

- After the procedure, it is common to have some pain and swelling.
- If your boot or cast is not waterproof, do not let it get wet.
- Contact your health care provider if you have severe pain or swelling, or if you have more fluids coming from your incision or leaking through your cast.
- Get help right away if you have numbness or tingling in your foot or leg, or if your foot becomes cold, pale, or blue.

General Anesthesia, Adult, Care After

This sheet gives you information about how to care for yourself after your procedure. Your health care provider may also give you more specific instructions. If you have problems or questions, contact your health care provider.

What can I expect after the procedure?

After the procedure, the following side effects are common:

- Pain or discomfort at the IV site.
- Nausea.
- Vomiting.
- Sore throat.
- Trouble concentrating.
- Feeling cold or chills.
- Weak or tired.
- Sleepiness and fatigue.

- Soreness and body aches. These side effects can affect parts of the body that were not involved in surgery.

Follow these instructions at home:

For at least 24 hours after the procedure:

- Have a responsible adult stay with you. It is important to have someone help care for you until you are awake and alert.
- Rest as needed.
- Do not:
  - Participate in activities in which you could fall or become injured.
  - Drive.
  - Use heavy machinery.
  - Drink alcohol.
  - Take sleeping pills or medicines that cause drowsiness.
  - Make important decisions or sign legal documents.
  - Take care of children on your own.

Eating and drinking

- Follow any instructions from your health care provider about eating or drinking restrictions.
- When you feel hungry, start by eating small amounts of foods that are soft and easy to digest (bland), such as toast. Gradually return to your regular diet.
- Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
- If you vomit, rehydrate by drinking water, juice, or clear broth.

General instructions

- If you have sleep apnea, surgery and certain medicines can increase your risk for breathing problems. Follow instructions from your health care provider about wearing your sleep device:
  - Anytime you are sleeping, including during daytime naps.
  - While taking prescription pain medicines, sleeping medicines, or medicines that make you drowsy.
- Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.
- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- If you smoke, do not smoke without supervision.
- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

- You have nausea or vomiting that does not get better with medicine.
- You cannot eat or drink without vomiting.
- You have pain that does not get better with medicine.
- You are unable to pass urine.
- You develop a skin rash.
- You have a fever.
- You have redness around your IV site that gets worse.

Get help right away if:

- You have difficulty breathing.
- You have chest pain.
- You have blood in your urine or stool, or you vomit blood.

Summary

- After the procedure, it is common to have a sore throat or nausea. It is also common to feel tired.
- Have a responsible adult stay with you for the first 24 hours after general anesthesia. It is important to have someone help care for you until you are awake and alert.
- When you feel hungry, start by eating small amounts of foods that are soft and easy to digest (bland), such as toast. Gradually return to your regular diet.
- Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.

Patient Education Notes

- Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.

Sutures, Staples, or Adhesive Wound Closure

Wound closure refers to holding skin and underlying tissue together while it heals, such as after surgery or after an injury. Health care providers use stitches (sutures), staples, and special types of glue (skin adhesives) to close wounds. Your health care provider will use a wound closure method that helps you heal quickly and reduces the chances of infection or scarring. The type of wound closure depends on the location, size, and depth of your wound.

In most cases, wounds are closed as soon as possible (primary skin closure). Sometimes, closure is delayed so the wound can be cleaned and then can heal naturally over weeks or months (delayed wound closure). This reduces the chance of infection.

What are the different types of wound closure?

Adhesive glue

To use adhesive glue, your health care provider holds the edges of the wound together and paints the glue on the surface of your skin. You may need more than one layer of glue. Once the glue is dry, the wound may be covered with a dressing.

This type of skin closure may be used for small wounds that are not deep (superficial wounds). It is often used for children and on facial wounds. Adhesive glue is less painful than other methods of wound closure, and it does not require a medicine to numb the area (local anesthetic). This method also leaves nothing to be removed.

Adhesive glue cannot be used for wounds that are deep, uneven, or bleeding. It is not used inside of a wound.

Adhesive strips

These strips are made of paper that is sticky (adhesive) and has many small holes in it (is porous). They are applied across your wound edges like a regular bandage.

Adhesive strips may be used to close very shallow wounds. They may be used along with sutures to improve skin closure.

Sutures

Sutures come in many different materials, strengths, and sizes. They may break down as your wound heals (absorbable), or they may need to be removed (nonabsorbable).

Your health care provider sews your skin or the tissues under your skin together with sutures and a steel needle. Your skin edges may be closed in one long (continuous) stitch or in separate stitches. Then the sutures are tied and cut.

Sutures can be used for all kinds of wounds. Absorbable sutures may be used to close tissues under the skin. Sutures can cause a skin reaction that can lead to infection.

Staples

When staples are used to close a wound, the edges of your skin on both sides of the wound are brought close together. A staple is placed across the wound, and an instrument secures the staple edges together.

Staples are often used to close surgical incisions. They are faster to use than sutures, and they cause less skin reaction. Staples need to be removed using a tool that bends the staples away from your skin.

Follow these instructions at home:

Medicines

- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- If you were prescribed an antibiotic medicine, take it as told by your health care provider. Do not stop taking the antibiotic even if you start to feel better.

Wound care

- Follow instructions from your health care provider about how to take care of your wound and dressing.

- Wash your hands with soap and water before and after touching your wound or dressing. If soap and water are not available, use hand sanitizer.
- Do not try to remove your wound closures unless your health care provider tells you to do that. You may need a follow-up visit with your health care provider to remove your closures.
  - Wound closures may stay in place for 2 weeks or longer.
  - Absorbable sutures may dissolve after a few days or weeks.
  - If adhesive strip edges start to loosen and curl up, you may trim the loose edges.
- Do not pick at your wound. Picking can cause an infection.
- Apply ointments or creams only as told by your health care provider.
- Check your wound every day for signs of infection. Check for:
  - Redness, swelling, or pain.
  - Fluid or blood.
  - Warmth.
  - Pus or a bad smell.

General instructions

- Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you may take showers. You may only be allowed to take sponge baths.
- Do not soak your wound in water.
- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if you:

- Have a fever or chills.
- Have redness, swelling, or pain around your wound.
- Have fluid or blood coming from your wound.
- Notice that your wound feels warm to the touch.
- Notice pus or a bad smell coming from your wound.
- Notice that the edges of your wound start to separate after your sutures come out.
- Notice that your wound becomes thick, raised, and darker in color after your sutures come out (scarring).

Summary

- The type of wound closure that your health care provider will use depends on the location, size, and depth of your wound. Options to close wounds include stitches (sutures), staples, special types of glue (skin adhesives), and adhesive strips.
- Your health care provider will use a wound closure method that helps you heal quickly and reduces the chances of infection or scarring.
- Do not soak your wound in water. Do not take baths, shower, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves.

Neurology

Head Injury, Adult

There are many types of head injuries. Head injuries can be as minor as a small bump, or they can be a serious medical issue. More severe head injuries include:

- A jarring injury to the brain (concussion).
- A bruise (contusion) of the brain. This means there is bleeding in the brain that can cause swelling.
- A cracked skull (skull fracture).
- Bleeding in the brain that collects, clots, and forms a bump (hematoma).

After a head injury, most problems occur within the first 24 hours, but side effects may occur up to 7–10 days after the injury. It is important to watch your condition for any changes. You may need to be observed in the emergency department or urgent care, or you may be admitted to the hospital.

What are the causes?

There are many possible causes of a head injury. Serious head injuries may be caused by car accidents, bicycle or motorcycle accidents, sports injuries, falls, or being struck by an object.

What are the symptoms?

Symptoms of a head injury include a contusion, bump, or bleeding at the site of the injury. Other physical symptoms may include:

- Headache.
- Nausea or vomiting.
- Dizziness.
- Blurred or double vision.
- Being uncomfortable around bright lights or loud noises.
- Seizures.
- Feeling tired.
- Trouble being awakened.
- Loss of consciousness.

Mental or emotional symptoms may include:

- Irritability.
- Confusion and memory problems.
- Poor attention and concentration.
- Changes in eating or sleeping habits.
- Anxiety or depression.

How is this diagnosed?

This condition can usually be diagnosed based on your symptoms, a description of the injury, and a physical exam. You may also have imaging tests done, such as a CT scan or an MRI.

How is this treated?

Treatment for this condition depends on the severity and type of injury you have. The main goal of treatment is to prevent complications and allow the brain time to heal.

Mild head injury

If you have a mild head injury, you may be sent home, and treatment may include:

- Observation. A responsible adult should stay with you for 24 hours after your injury and check on you often.
- Physical rest.
- Brain rest.
- Pain medicines.

Severe head injury

If you have a severe head injury, treatment may include:

- Close observation. This includes hospitalization with the following care:
  - Frequent physical exams.
  - Frequent checks of how your brain and nervous system are working (neurological status).
  - Checking your blood pressure and oxygen levels.
- Medicines to relieve pain, prevent seizures, and decrease brain swelling.
- Airway protection and breathing support. This may include using a ventilator.
- Treatments that monitor and manage swelling inside the brain.
- Brain surgery. This may be needed to:
  - Remove a collection of blood or blood clots.
  - Stop the bleeding.
  - Remove a part of the skull to allow room for the brain to swell.

Follow these instructions at home:

Activity

- Rest and avoid activities that are physically hard or tiring.
- Make sure you get enough sleep.
- Let your brain rest by limiting activities that require a lot of thought or attention, such as:
  - Watching TV.
  - Playing memory games and puzzles.
  - Job-related work or homework.
  - Working on the computer, using social media, and texting.

- Avoid activities that could cause another head injury, such as playing sports, until your health care provider approves. Having another head injury, especially before the first one has healed, can be dangerous.
- Ask your health care provider when it is safe for you to return to your regular activities, including work or school. Ask your health care provider for a step-by-step plan for gradually returning to activities.
- Ask your health care provider when you can drive, ride a bicycle, or use heavy machinery. Your ability to react may be slower after a brain injury. Do not do these activities if you are dizzy.

Lifestyle

- Do not drink alcohol until your health care provider approves. Do not use drugs. Alcohol and certain drugs may slow your recovery and can put you at risk of further injury.
- If it is harder than usual to remember things, write them down.
- If you are easily distracted, try to do one thing at a time.
- Talk with family members or close friends when making important decisions.
- Tell your friends, family, a trusted colleague, and work manager about your injury, symptoms, and restrictions. Have them watch for any new or worsening problems.

General instructions

- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- Have someone stay with you for 24 hours after your head injury. This person should watch you for any changes in your symptoms and be ready to seek medical help.
- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

How is this prevented?

- Work on improving your balance and strength to avoid falls.
- Wear a seat belt when you are in a moving vehicle.
- Wear a helmet when riding a bicycle, skiing, or doing any other sport or activity that has a risk of injury.

- If you drink alcohol:
  - Limit how much you use to:
    - 0–1 drink a day for nonpregnant women.
    - 0–2 drinks a day for men.
  - Be aware of how much alcohol is in your drink. In the U.S., one drink equals one 12 oz bottle of beer (355 mL), one 5 oz glass of wine (148 mL), or one 1½ oz glass of hard liquor (44 mL).
- Take safety measures in your home, such as:
  - Removing clutter and tripping hazards from floors and stairways.
  - Using grab bars in bathrooms and handrails by stairs.
  - Placing non-slip mats on floors and in bathtubs.
  - Improving lighting in dim areas.

Get help right away if:

- You have:
  - A severe headache that is not helped by medicine.
  - Trouble walking or weakness in your arms and legs.
  - Clear or bloody fluid coming from your nose or ears.
  - Changes in your vision.
  - A seizure.
  - Increased confusion or irritability.
- Your symptoms get worse.
- You are sleepier than normal and have trouble staying awake.
- You lose your balance.
- Your pupils change size.
- Your speech is slurred.
- Your dizziness gets worse.
- You vomit.

These symptoms may represent a serious problem that is an emergency. Do not wait to see if the symptoms will go away. Get medical help right away. Call your local emergency services (911 in the U.S.). Do not drive yourself to the hospital.

Summary

- Head injuries can be minor, or they can be a serious medical issue requiring immediate attention.
- Treatment for this condition depends on the severity and type of injury you have.
- Have someone stay with you for 24 hours after your injury and check on you often.
- Ask your health care provider when it is safe for you to return to your regular activities, including work or school.
- Head injury prevention includes wearing a seat belt in a motor vehicle, using a helmet on a bicycle, limiting alcohol use, and taking safety measures in your home.

History: Female, 69 years old. Screening mammogram

COMPARISON: February 10, 2020 and January 2, 2013

Technique: Routine screening 2D and 3D tomosynthesis were performed. CAD was utilized.

Density: The breast tissue is heterogeneously dense which could obscure small masses.

BILATERAL 2D and 3D SCREENING MAMMOGRAM FINDINGS: Benign bilateral breast calcifications. No suspicious calcifications or masses; no architectural distortion.

IMPRESSION: No mammographic evidence of malignancy. Annual screening mammograms along with monthly self-breast exams are recommended.

BI-RADS 2: Benign findings(s)

RECOMMENDATION: Annual screening mammography.

A letter is sent to the patient reporting the results of the exam.

Radiology Report
EXAMINATION: US CAROTIDS, BILATERAL

DATE OF EXAM: 9/9/2022 10:55 AM
CURRENT HISTORY: Female, 69 years old. The patient complained of dizziness. History of hyperlipidemia and hypertension.
PREVIOUS HISTORY: As above.

COMPARISON: Carotid ultrasound 9/30/2020.

FINDINGS:

Internal carotid stenosis estimations are based on velocities using Society of Radiologists in Ultrasound (SRU) criteria.

RIGHT CAROTID SYSTEM:
ICA peak systolic velocity: 66 cm/sec.
ICA end diastolic velocity: 21 cm/sec.

ICA/CCA peak systolic ratio: 0.9

ICA plaque: Mild plaque burden. The plaque is echogenic with calcified shadowing elements.

RIGHT VERTEBRAL ARTERY WAVEFORM: Normal.

ICA peak systolic velocity: 96 cm/sec.
ICA end diastolic velocity: 23 cm/sec.

ICA/CCA peak systolic ratio: 1.5

ICA plaque: Mild to moderate plaque burden. The plaque is echogenic with calcified shadowing elements.

LEFT VERTEBRAL ARTERY WAVEFORM: Normal.

Name:	BERRY, VICKIE L	Admit Date:	9/9/2022
MRN:	10502	Discharge Date:	9/9/2022

Ultrasound

Radiology Report
THYROID: Any visualized thyroid tissue is unremarkable.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS: None.

IMPRESSION:

1. Mild plaque within the proximal right internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

2. Mild to moderate plaque within the proximal left internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

3. Antegrade vertebral artery flow.

Velocity criteria are extrapolated from diameter data as defined by the Society of Radiologists in Ultrasound Consensus Conference, Radiology 2003; 229;340-346.

Patients who have a positive COVID-19 test result may now have treatment options. Treatment options are available for patients with mild to moderate symptoms and for hospitalized patients. Visit our website at https://www.labcorp.com/COVID19 for resources and information.
Testing was performed using the cobas(R) SARS-CoV-2 test. This nucleic acid amplification test was developed and its performance characteristics determined by LabCorp Laboratories. Nucleic acid amplification tests include RT-PCR and TMA. This test has not been FDA cleared or approved. This test has been authorized by FDA under an Emergency Use Authorization (EUA). This test is only authorized for the duration of time the declaration that circumstances exist justifying the authorization of the emergency use of in vitro diagnostic tests for detection of SARS-CoV-2 virus and/or diagnosis of COVID-19 infection under section 564(b)(1) of the Act, 21 U.S.C. 360bbb-3(b)(1), unless the authorization is terminated or revoked sooner.

When diagnostic testing is negative, the possibility of a false negative result should be considered in the context of a patient's recent exposures and the presence of clinical signs and symptoms consistent with COVID-19. An individual without symptoms of COVID-19 and who is not shedding SARS-CoV-2 virus would expect to have a negative (not detected) result in this assay.

1. Urinary tract infection N39.0
 UA performed in office and results listed in HPI. Urine will be sent for culture and patient will be called with culture results if they indicate that antibiotic may need to be ineffective. Bactrim DS ordered for patient to take twice daily x5 days. I also ordered Pyridium for patient's complaint of dysuria. Patient encouraged to push fluids, specifically water, and to take antibiotic as directed until completed. Patient advised that if she starts running fever, lower back pain worsens or seems to be one-sided versus another, or if she starts vomiting uncontrollably, then she needs to be seen. Advised patient on side effect profile of antibiotic as well as Pyridium. Patient verbalized understanding about all and has no further questions today.

Chief Complaint
frequency of urination, hurts to urinate, had some pink coloring to toliet paper when she wiped, no fevers, symptoms started a couple of days ago
History of Present Illness
Patient is here with concern of possible UTI. States that she has had symptoms of dysuria and frequency for the past 3 days. She states that she called the office because she did notice that she had a pinkish discoloration on toilet paper when she wiped but no visible blood in her urine. She has had some lower back pain that is a little bit worse than her normal lower back pain but it does not seem to be on one side versus another. Patient denies fever, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea.
UA performed in office was positive for blood and leukocytes. I will treat patient for UTI based on this and patient symptoms. Vital signs reviewed in office and they are within normal limits. Patient has no further questions today.

Assessment/Plan
1. Urinary tract infection N39.0
UA performed in office and results listed in HPI. Urine will be sent for culture and patient will be called with culture results if they indicate that antibiotic may need to be ineffective. Bactrim DS ordered for patient to take twice daily x5 days. I also ordered Pyridium for patient's complaint of dysuria. Patient encouraged to push fluids, specifically water, and to take antibiotic as directed until completed. Patient advised that if she starts running fever, lower back pain worsens or seems to be one-sided versus another, or if she starts vomiting uncontrollably, then she needs to be seen. Advised patient on side effect profile of antibiotic as well as Pyridium. Patient verbalized understanding about all and has no further questions today.

Assessment/Plan

1. Aneurysm, cerebral I67.1
Chronic, stable.
Referral provided for second opinion with Dr. Du.
Ordered:
Referral Ambulatory, Neurology, aneurysm, Du MD, Cheng, 04/04/22 10:13:00 EDT, Aneurysm, cerebral

2. Essential hypertension I10
Chronic, controlled.
Complicated by nothing.
Meds: No change in management
Labs: Future labs sent.
Imaging: EKG not on file
Counseled on lifestyle changes such as low salt diet, activity, and excess alcohol.
Ordered:
Basic Metabolic Panel, Blood, Routine, *Est. 10/04/23 +/- 28 days, Once, Lab Collect, Order for future visit, Essential hypertension | Hypothyroidism, acquired, autoimmune | Mixed hyperlipidemia | History of CVA (cerebrovascular accident) without residual deficits

Metatarsal Fracture

Metatarsal Fracture

A metatarsal fracture is a break in one of the five bones that connect the toes to the rest of the foot. This may also be called a forefoot fracture. A metatarsal fracture may be:

• A crack in the surface of the bone (stress fracture). This often occurs in athletes.

• A break all the way through the bone (complete fracture).

The bone that connects to the little toe (fifth metatarsal) is most commonly fractured. Ballet dancers often fracture this bone.

What are the causes?

A metatarsal fracture may be caused by:

• Sudden twisting of the foot.

• Falling onto the foot.

• Something heavy falling onto the foot.

• Overuse or repetitive exercise.

What increases the risk?

This condition is more likely to develop in people who:

• Play contact sports.

• Do ballet.

• Have a condition that causes the bones to become thin and brittle (osteoporosis).

• Have a low calcium level.

What are the signs or symptoms?

Symptoms of this condition include:

• Pain that gets worse when walking or standing.

• Pain when pressing on the foot or moving the toes.

• Swelling.

• Bruising on the top or bottom of the foot.

How is this diagnosed?

This condition may be diagnosed based on:

• Your symptoms.

• Any recent foot injuries you have had.

• A physical exam.

• An X-ray of your foot. If you have a stress fracture, it may not show up on an X-ray, and you may need other imaging tests, such as:

◦ A bone scan.

◦ CT scan.

◦ MRI.

How is this treated?

Treatment depends on how severe your fracture is and how the pieces of the broken bone line up with each other (alignment). Treatment may involve:

• Wearing a cast, splint, or supportive boot on your foot.

• Using crutches, and not putting any weight on your foot.

• Having surgery to align broken bones (open reduction and internal fixation, ORIF).

• Physical therapy.

• Follow-up visits and X-rays to make sure you are healing.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a splint or a supportive boot:

• Wear the splint or boot as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.

• Loosen the splint or boot if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.

• Keep the splint or boot clean.

• If your splint or boot is not waterproof:

◦ Do not let it get wet.

◦ Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

If you have a cast:

• Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk for infection.

• Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.

• You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.

• Keep the cast clean.

• If the cast is not waterproof:

◦ Do not let it get wet.

◦ Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

Activity

• Do not use your affected leg to support your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Use crutches as directed.

• Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you during recovery, and ask what activities you need to avoid.

• Do physical therapy exercises as directed.

Driving

• Do not drive or use heavy machinery while taking pain medicine.

• Do not drive while wearing a cast, splint, or boot on a foot that you use for driving.

Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling

• If directed, put ice on painful areas:

◦ Put ice in a plastic bag.

◦ Place a towel between your skin and the bag.

▪ If you have a removable splint or boot, remove it as told by your health care provider.

▪ If you have a cast, place a towel between your cast and the bag.

◦ Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.

• Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.

• Raise (elevate) your lower leg above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down.

General instructions

• Do not put pressure on any part of the cast or splint until it is fully hardened. This may take several hours.

• Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.

• Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider.

• Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you may take showers.

• Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if you have:

• Pain that gets worse or does not get better with medicine.

• A fever.

• A bad smell coming from your cast or splint.

Get help right away if you have:

• Any of the following in your toes or your foot, even after loosening your splint (if applicable):

◦ Numbness.

◦ Tingling.

◦ Coldness.

◦ Blue skin.

• Redness or swelling that gets worse.

• Pain that suddenly becomes severe.

Summary

• A metatarsal fracture is a break in one of the five bones that connect the toes to the rest of the foot.

• Treatment depends on how severe your fracture is and how the pieces of the broken bone line up with each other (alignment). This may include wearing a cast, splint, or supportive boot, or using crutches. Sometimes surgery is needed to align the bones.

• Ice and elevate your foot to help lessen the pain and swelling.

• Make sure you know what symptoms should cause you to get help right away.

Ankle Fracture

Ankle Fracture

The ankle joint is made up of the lower (distal) sections of your lower leg bones (tibia and fibula) along with a bone in your foot (talus). An ankle fracture is a break in one, two, or all three of these sections of bone. There are two general types of ankle fractures:

• Stable fracture. This happens when one of your bones is broken, but the bones of your ankle joint stay in their normal positions.

• Unstable fracture. This type can include more than one broken bone. It can also happen if your outer bone is broken and the tough bands of tissue that connect bones (ligaments) are also injured at your inner ankle. This type of fracture allows the talus to move out of its normal position.

What are the causes?

This condition may be caused by:

• A hard, direct hit (blow) to the ankle.

• Quickly and severely twisting your ankle, often while your foot is planted and the rest of your body moving.

• Trauma, such as a car accident or falling from a height.

What increases the risk?

This condition is more likely to occur in people who:

• Smoke.

• Are overweight.

• Participate in sports that involve quick direction changes, as in soccer.

• Do high-impact sports like gymnastics or football.

• Are involved in a high-impact car accident.

What are the signs or symptoms?

Symptoms of this condition include:

• Tender and swollen ankle.

• Bruising around the injured ankle.

• Pain when moving or pressing on the ankle.

• Trouble walking or using the ankle to support your body weight (putting weight on the ankle).

• Pain that gets worse when moving or standing and gets better with rest.

How is this diagnosed?

An ankle fracture is usually diagnosed with a physical exam and X-rays. A CT scan or MRI may also be done.

How is this treated?

Treatment for this condition depends on the type of ankle fracture you have. Stable fractures are treated with a cast, boot, or splint to hold the ankle still and crutches to avoid putting weight on the injured ankle until the fracture heals. Unstable fractures require surgery to ensure that the bones heal properly. After surgery, you will have a splint. After your incision is healed, your surgeon may give you a cast or a boot. You will not be able to put weight on your injured side for several weeks.

After your ankle has healed, you will do exercises to improve the strength and mobility of your ankle.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a splint:

• Wear the splint as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.

• Loosen the splint if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.

• Keep the splint clean.
• If the splint is not waterproof:
◦ Do not let it get wet.
◦ Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.
If you have a cast:
• Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk of infection.
• Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.
• You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.
• Keep the cast clean.
• If the cast is not waterproof:
◦ Do not let it get wet.
◦ Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.
Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling
• If directed, put ice on the injured area:
◦ If you have a removable splint, remove it as told by your health care provider.
◦ Put ice in a plastic bag.
◦ Place a towel between your skin and the bag or between your cast and the bag.
◦ Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.
• Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.
• Raise (elevate) the injured area above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down.
General instructions
• Do not use the injured limb to support your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Use crutches as told by your health care provider
• Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
• Ask your health care provider when it is safe to drive if you have a cast or splint.
• Do exercises as told by your health care provider.
• Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider
• Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.
Contact a health care provider if:
• You have pain or swelling that gets worse or does not get better with rest or medicine.
Get help right away if:
• Your cast gets damaged.
• You have severe pain that lasts.
• You develop new pain or swelling.
• Your skin or toenails below the injury turn blue or gray, feel cold, become numb, or have a loss of sensitivity to touch.
Summary
• An ankle fracture can either be stable or unstable. This is determined after a physical exam and imaging studies like X-rays, a CT scan, or MRI.
• Stable fractures are treated with a cast, boot, or splint to hold the ankle still until the fracture heals. Unstable fractures require surgery to ensure that the bones heal properly.
• You will not be able to put weight on your injured side for several weeks.
• Pain medicines, icing, and raising (elevating) your injured ankle when sitting or lying down may help with pain relief. Follow instructions as told by your health care provider.

[1] Result Comment: Testing was performed using the Aptima SARS-CoV-2 assay.
Testing performed using a nucleic acid amplification (NAA) method which includes RT-PCR or TMA. This test has not been FDA cleared or approved. This test has been authorized by FDA under an Emergency Use Authorization (EUA). This test is only authorized for the duration of time the declaration that circumstances exist justifying the authorization of the emergency use of in vitro diagnostic tests for detection of SARS-CoV-2 virus and/or diagnosis of COVID-19 infection under section 564(b)(1) of the Act, 21 U.S.C.
360bbb-3(b) (1), unless the authorization is terminated or revoked sooner. When diagnostic testing is negative, the possibility of a false negative result should be considered in the context of a patient's recent exposures and the presence of clinical signs and symptoms consistent with COVID-19. An individual without symptoms of COVID-19 and who is not shedding SARS-CoV-2 virus would expect to have a negative (not detected) result in this assay.

1. Fracture of lateral malleolus of right ankle S82.61XA
2. Displaced fracture of fifth metatarsal bone, right foot, initial encounter for closed fracture S92.351A

Patient missed a step and twisted her right foot and ankle couple days ago. Initially she did not think much of it and she continued to walk but she had persistent right foot and ankle pain.X-rays in the emergency department revealed fracture of her foot and ankle and she was placed in a posterior splint.She had stroke in the past but she did not have any residual motor weakness.She is on Plavix because of her previous stroke.I reviewed her right foot and ankle x-rays.She has a fracture of lateral malleolus distally and comminuted and slightly displaced fracture of the base of her fifth Metatarsal.We discussed the operative and nonoperative options available.The nonoperative option would involve placing her in a walking boot and keeping her nonweightbearing 6 weeks to start with up to 3 months and following her closely with repeated x-rays.Operative option would involve placing a small plate and intramedullary screw in the distal fibula and placing an intramedullary screw into the fifth metatarsal.The rationale for the operative fixation involves stabilization of the fracture and allowing her to weight-bear early.Especially the base of the fifth metatarsal fracture involves an area with decreased blood supply and the pill of the peroneus tendon is in the direction of distraction at the fracture site. The risks of the surgery include but not limited to infection, neurovascular injury, nonunion, malunion, and hardware problems.After discussing the pros and cons of each option she decided to go ahead with surgical treatment. Accordingly we are booking her surgery to be done early next week. She will stop her Plavix this weekend.

Assessment/Plan
1. Fracture of lateral malleolus of right ankle S82.61XA
2. Displaced fracture of fifth metatarsal bone, right foot, initial encounter for closed fracture S92.351A
Patient missed a step and twisted her right foot and ankle couple days ago. Initially she did not think much of it and she continued to walk but she had persistent right foot and ankle pain.X-rays in the emergency department revealed fracture of her foot and ankle and she was placed in a posterior splint.She had stroke in the past but she did not have any residual motor weakness.She is on Plavix because of her previous stroke.I reviewed her right foot and ankle x-rays.She has a fracture of lateral malleolus distally and comminuted and slightly displaced fracture of the base of her fifth Metatarsal.We discussed the operative and nonoperative options available.The nonoperative option would involve placing her in a walking boot and keeping her nonweightbearing 6 weeks to start with up to 3 months and following her closely with repeated x-rays.Operative option would involve placing a small plate and intramedullary screw in the distal fibula and placing an intramedullary screw into the fifth metatarsal.The rationale for the operative fixation involves stabilization of the fracture and allowing her to weight-bear early.Especially the base of the fifth metatarsal fracture involves an area with decreased blood supply and the pill of the peroneus tendon is in the direction of distraction at the fracture site. The risks of the surgery include but not limited to infection, neurovascular injury, nonunion, malunion, and hardware problems.After discussing the pros and cons of each option she decided to go ahead with surgical treatment. Accordingly we are booking her surgery to be done early next week. She will stop her Plavix this weekend.

Displaced Medial or Posterior Malleolar Ankle Fracture Treated With ORIF, Care After

Displaced Medial or Posterior Malleolar Ankle Fracture Treated With ORIF, Care After

This sheet gives you information about how to care for yourself after your procedure. Your health care provider may also give you more specific instructions. If you have problems or questions, contact your health care provider.

What can I expect after the procedure?

After the procedure, it is common to have:

• Pain.

• Swelling.

• A small amount of fluid from your incision.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a boot:

• Wear the boot as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.

• Loosen the boot if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.

• Keep the boot clean.

• If the boot is not waterproof:

◦ Do not let it get wet.

◦ Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

If you have a cast:

• Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk of infection.

• Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.

• You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.

• Keep the cast clean.

• If the cast is not waterproof:

◦ Do not let it get wet.

◦ Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

Bathing

• Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you can take showers.

• If your boot or cast is not waterproof, cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

• Keep the bandage (dressing) dry until your health care provider says it can be removed.

Incision care

• Follow instructions from your health care provider about how to take care of your incision. Make sure you:
◦ Wash your hands with soap and water before you change your dressing. If soap and water are not available, use hand sanitizer.
◦ Change your dressing as told by your health care provider.
◦ Leave stitches (sutures), skin glue, or adhesive strips in place. These skin closures may need to stay in place for 2 weeks or longer. If adhesive strip edges start to loosen and curl up, you may trim the loose edges. Do not remove adhesive strips completely unless your health care provider tells you to do that.
• Check your incision area every day for signs of infection. Check for:
◦ Redness.
◦ More pain or swelling.
◦ Blood or more fluid.
◦ Warmth.
◦ Pus or a bad smell.

Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling

• If directed, put ice on the affected area.
◦ If you have a removable boot, remove it as told by your health care provider.
◦ Put ice in a plastic bag.
◦ Place a towel between your skin and the bag or between your cast and the bag.
◦ Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.
• Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.
• Raise (elevate) the injured area above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down. To do this, try putting a few pillows under your leg and ankle.

Driving

• Do not drive or use heavy machinery while taking prescription pain medicine.
• Ask your health care provider when it is safe to drive if you have a boot or cast on your foot.

Activity

• Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.
• Do exercises as told by your health care provider or physical therapist.
• Do not use your injured limb to support (bear) your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Follow weight-bearing restrictions as told. Use crutches or other devices to help you move around (assistive devices) as directed.

General instructions

• Do not put pressure on any part of the cast until it is fully hardened. This may take several hours.
• Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider.
• Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
• If you are taking prescription pain medicine, take actions to prevent or treat constipation. Your health care provider may recommend that you:
◦ Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
◦ Eat foods that are high in fiber, such as fresh fruits and vegetables, whole grains, and beans.
◦ Limit foods that are high in fat and processed sugars, such as fried or sweet foods.
◦ Take an over-the-counter or prescription medicine for constipation.
• Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

• You have a fever.
• Your pain medicine is not helping.
• You have redness around your incision.
• You have more swelling or pain around your incision.
• You have blood or more fluid coming from your incision or leaking through your cast.
• Your incision feels warm to the touch.
• You have pus or a bad smell coming from your incision or dressings.

Get help right away if:

• The edges of your incision come apart after the stitches or staples have been taken out.

• You have chest pain.
• You have difficulty breathing.
• You have numbness or tingling in your foot or leg.
• Your foot becomes cold, pale, or blue.

Summary

• After the procedure, it is common to have some pain and swelling.
• If your boot or cast is not waterproof, do not let it get wet.
• Contact your health care provider if you have severe pain or swelling, or if you have more fluids coming from your incision or leaking through your cast.
• Get help right away if you have numbness or tingling in your foot or leg, or if your foot becomes cold, pale, or blue.

General Anesthesia, Adult, Care After

General Anesthesia, Adult, Care After

This sheet gives you information about how to care for yourself after your procedure. Your health care provider may also give you more specific instructions. If you have problems or questions, contact your health care provider.

What can I expect after the procedure?

After the procedure, the following side effects are common:

• Pain or discomfort at the IV site.
• Nausea.
• Vomiting.
• Sore throat.
• Trouble concentrating.
• Feeling cold or chills.
• Weak or tired.
• Sleepiness and fatigue.
• Soreness and body aches. These side effects can affect parts of the body that were not involved in surgery.

Follow these instructions at home:

For at least 24 hours after the procedure:

• Have a responsible adult stay with you. It is important to have someone help care for you until you are awake and alert.
• Rest as needed.
• Do not:
◦ Participate in activities in which you could fall or become injured.
◦ Drive.
◦ Use heavy machinery.
◦ Drink alcohol.
◦ Take sleeping pills or medicines that cause drowsiness.
◦ Make important decisions or sign legal documents.
◦ Take care of children on your own.

Eating and drinking

• Follow any instructions from your health care provider about eating or drinking restrictions.
• When you feel hungry, start by eating small amounts of foods that are soft and easy to digest (bland), such as toast. Gradually return to your regular diet.
• Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
• If you vomit, rehydrate by drinking water, juice, or clear broth.

General instructions

• If you have sleep apnea, surgery and certain medicines can increase your risk for breathing problems. Follow instructions from your health care provider about wearing your sleep device:

◦ Anytime you are sleeping, including during daytime naps.

◦ While taking prescription pain medicines, sleeping medicines, or medicines that make you drowsy.

• Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.

• Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.

• If you smoke, do not smoke without supervision.

• Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

• You have nausea or vomiting that does not get better with medicine.

• You cannot eat or drink without vomiting.

• You have pain that does not get better with medicine.

• You are unable to pass urine.

• You develop a skin rash.

• You have a fever.

• You have redness around your IV site that gets worse.

Get help right away if:

• You have difficulty breathing.

• You have chest pain.

• You have blood in your urine or stool, or you vomit blood.

Summary

• After the procedure, it is common to have a sore throat or nausea. It is also common to feel tired.

• Have a responsible adult stay with you for the first 24 hours after general anesthesia. It is important to have someone help care for you until you are awake and alert.

• When you feel hungry, start by eating small amounts of foods that are soft and easy to digest (bland), such as toast. Gradually return to your regular diet.

• Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.

• Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.

This information is not intended to replace advice given to you by your health care provider. Make sure you discuss any questions you have with your health care provider.

Displaced Medial or Posterior Malleolar Ankle Fracture Treated With ORIF, Care After
This sheet gives you information about how to care for yourself after your procedure. Your health care provider may also give you more specific instructions. If you have problems or questions, contact your health care provider.
What can I expect after the procedure?
After the procedure, it is common to have:

Pain.

- Swelling.
- A small amount of fluid from your incision.

Follow these instructions at home:

If you have a boot:

- Wear the boot as told by your health care provider. Remove it only as told by your health care provider.
- Loosen the boot if your toes tingle, become numb, or turn cold and blue.
- Keep the boot clean.
- If the boot is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

If you have a cast:

- Do not stick anything inside the cast to scratch your skin. Doing that increases your risk of infection.
- Check the skin around the cast every day. Tell your health care provider about any concerns.
- You may put lotion on dry skin around the edges of the cast. Do not put lotion on the skin underneath the cast.
- Keep the cast clean.
- If the cast is not waterproof:
  - Do not let it get wet.
  - Cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

Bathing

Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you can take showers.

- If your boot or cast is not waterproof, cover it with a watertight covering when you take a bath or a shower.

- Keep the bandage (dressing) dry until your health care provider says it can be removed.

Incision care

- Follow instructions from your health care provider about how to take care of your incision. Make sure you:
  - Wash your hands with soap and water before you change your dressing. If soap and water are not available, use hand sanitizer.
  - Change your dressing as told by your health care provider.
  - Leave stitches (sutures), skin glue, or adhesive strips in place. These skin closures may need to stay in place for 2 weeks or longer. If adhesive strip edges start to loosen and curl up, you may trim the loose edges. Do not remove adhesive strips completely unless your health care provider tells you to do that.
- Check your incision area every day for signs of infection. Check for:
  - Redness.
  - More pain or swelling.
  - Blood or more fluid.
  - Warmth.
  - Pus or a bad smell.

Managing pain, stiffness, and swelling

- If directed, put ice on the affected area.

If you have a removable boot, remove it as told by your health care provider.

Put ice in a plastic bag.

Place a towel between your skin and the bag or between your cast and the bag.

Leave the ice on for 20 minutes, 2–3 times a day.

Move your toes often to avoid stiffness and to lessen swelling.

Raise (elevate) the injured area above the level of your heart while you are sitting or lying down. To do this, try putting a few pillows under your leg and ankle.
Driving

Do not drive or use heavy machinery while taking prescription pain medicine.

Ask your health care provider when it is safe to drive if you have a boot or cast on your foot.
Activity

Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.

Do exercises as told by your health care provider or physical therapist.

Do not use your injured limb to support (bear) your body weight until your health care provider says that you can. Follow weight-bearing restrictions as told. Use crutches or other devices to help you move around (assistive devices) as directed.
General instructions

Do not put pressure on any part of the cast until it is fully hardened. This may take several hours.

Do not use any products that contain nicotine or tobacco, such as cigarettes and e-cigarettes. These can delay bone healing. If you need help quitting, ask your health care provider.

Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.

If you are taking prescription pain medicine, take actions to prevent or treat constipation. Your health care provider may recommend that you:

- Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
- Eat foods that are high in fiber, such as fresh fruits and vegetables, whole grains, and beans.
- Limit foods that are high in fat and processed sugars, such as fried or sweet foods.
- Take an over-the-counter or prescription medicine for constipation.

- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

- You have a fever.
- Your pain medicine is not helping.
- You have redness around your incision.
- You have more swelling or pain around your incision.
- You have blood or more fluid coming from your incision or leaking through your cast.
- Your incision feels warm to the touch.
- You have pus or a bad smell coming from your incision or dressings.

Get help right away if:

- The edges of your incision come apart after the stitches or staples have been taken out.
- You have chest pain.
- You have difficulty breathing.
- You have numbness or tingling in your foot or leg.

- Your foot becomes cold, pale, or blue.

Summary

- After the procedure, it is common to have some pain and swelling.
- If your boot or cast is not waterproof, do not let it get wet.
- Contact your health care provider if you have severe pain or swelling, or if you have more fluids coming from your incision or leaking through your cast.
- Get help right away if you have numbness or tingling in your foot or leg, or if your foot becomes cold, pale, or blue.

General Anesthesia, Adult, Care After

This sheet gives you information about how to care for yourself after your procedure. Your health care provider may also give you more specific instructions. If you have problems or questions, contact your health care provider.

What can I expect after the procedure?

After the procedure, the following side effects are common:

- Pain or discomfort at the IV site.
- Nausea.
- Vomiting.
- Sore throat.
- Trouble concentrating.
- Feeling cold or chills.

- Weak or tired.
- Sleepiness and fatigue.
- Soreness and body aches. These side effects can affect parts of the body that were not involved in surgery.

Follow these instructions at home:

For at least 24 hours after the procedure:

- Have a responsible adult stay with you. It is important to have someone help care for you until you are awake and alert.
- Rest as needed.
- Do not:
  - Participate in activities in which you could fall or become injured.
  - Drive.
  - Use heavy machinery.
  - Drink alcohol.
  - Take sleeping pills or medicines that cause drowsiness.
  - Make important decisions or sign legal documents.
  - Take care of children on your own.

Eating and drinking

- Follow any instructions from your health care provider about eating or drinking restrictions.
- When you feel hungry, start by eating small amounts of foods that are soft and easy to digest (bland), such as toast. Gradually return to your regular diet.

- Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
- If you vomit, rehydrate by drinking water, juice, or clear broth.

General instructions

- If you have sleep apnea, surgery and certain medicines can increase your risk for breathing problems. Follow instructions from your health care provider about wearing your sleep device:
  - Anytime you are sleeping, including during daytime naps.
  - While taking prescription pain medicines, sleeping medicines, or medicines that make you drowsy.
- Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.
- Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
- If you smoke, do not smoke without supervision.
- Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if:

- You have nausea or vomiting that does not get better with medicine.
- You cannot eat or drink without vomiting.
- You have pain that does not get better with medicine.
- You are unable to pass urine.
- You develop a skin rash.
- You have a fever.
- You have redness around your IV site that gets worse.

Get help right away if:

- You have difficulty breathing.
- You have chest pain.
- You have blood in your urine or stool, or you vomit blood.

Summary

- After the procedure, it is common to have a sore throat or nausea. It is also common to feel tired.
- Have a responsible adult stay with you for the first 24 hours after general anesthesia. It is important to have someone help care for you until you are awake and alert.
- When you feel hungry, start by eating small amounts of foods that are soft and easy to digest (bland), such as toast. Gradually return to your regular diet.
- Drink enough fluid to keep your urine pale yellow.
- Return to your normal activities as told by your health care provider. Ask your health care provider what activities are safe for you.

This information is not intended to replace advice given to you by your health care provider. Make sure you discuss any questions you have with your health care provider.

Scribe Attestation: Documentation prepared by Laura Foerg, acting as medical Scribe for Dr. Varhan.

Assessment/Plan
1. Fracture of lateral malleolus of right ankle S82.61XA
2. Displaced fracture of fifth metatarsal bone, right foot, initial encounter for closed fracture S92.351A
Patient missed a step and twisted her right foot and ankle couple days ago. Initially she did not think much of it and she continued to walk but she had persistent right foot and ankle pain.X-rays in the emergency department revealed fracture of her foot and ankle and she was placed in a posterior splint.She had stroke in the past but she did not have any residual motor weakness.She is on Plavix because of her previous stroke.I reviewed her right foot and ankle x-rays.She has a fracture of lateral malleolus distally and comminuted and slightly displaced fracture of the base of her fifth Metatarsal.We discussed the operative and nonoperative options available.The nonoperative option would involve placing her in a walking boot and keeping her nonweightbearing 6 weeks to start with up to 3 months and following her closely with repeated x-rays.Operative option would involve placing a small plate and intramedullary screw in the distal fibula and placing an intramedullary screw into the fifth metatarsal.The rationale for the operative fixation involves stabilization of the fracture and allowing her to weight-bear early.Especially the base of the fifth metatarsal fracture involves an area with decreased blood supply and the pill of the peroneus tendon is in the direction of distraction at the fracture site. The risks of the surgery include but not limited to infection, neurovascular injury, nonunion, malunion, and hardware problems.After discussing the pros and cons of each option she decided to go ahead with surgical treatment. Accordingly we are booking her surgery to be done early next week. She will stop her Plavix this weekend. [1]

There are no changes to the above history and physical examination as of April 22, 2022.

[1] Interpretive Data: Glomerular Filtration Rate Estimation

GFR >=60 ml/min/1.73 m sq (Expected Range)

Stage 4 Severe Decrease 15-29
Stage 5 Kidney Failure <15

Patients>70 years of age have a normal range of 45-59mL/min/1.73m sq.

If patient is African American result must be multiplied by 1.21

GFR is increased during pregnancy

Assessment and Plan

Extracted from:

Title: OV: cough, HTN, hypothyroid	Author: Akande MD, Olusina	Date: 4/29/24

1. Cough R05.9

The condition is chronic and has been progressively worsening.

Assessment: It is likely that her use of lisinopril may be a contributing factor. Further management will be determined based on her symptom improvement following the change in medication.

Meds: A switch from lisinopril to Olmesartan will be initiated to potentially alleviate her symptoms.

Labs: Screening labs have been ordered.

Imaging: N/A

Referral: N/A

Counseling: N/A

2. Essential hypertension I10

Chronic, controlled.

The hypertension is currently stable. The hypertension is likely secondary to her overall lifestyle. Complicated by patient's other comorbidities.

Meds: Lisinopril was discontinued, and she was started on Olmesartan to potentially alleviate her chronic cough.

Labs: Future labs sent.

Imaging: EKG is not on file.

Counseling: Lifestyle changes such as low salt diet, activity, and excess alcohol.

3. Hypothyroidism, acquired, autoimmune E06.3

Chronic, stable

Assessment: No changes in management will be made at this time.

Labs: A TSH test has been sent.

Meds: She will maintain her daily intake of levothyroxine 100 mcg.

Imaging: None

Counseling: Healthy activity and diet.

This note has been created using Dragon Ambient experience and was completed in the EHR by Marvin Miano.

Chief Complaint
6 mo follow up
cough for past year
History of Present Illness
Vickie Berry is a 71-year-old female who presents in the clinic today for evaluation of multiple medical concerns. The patient consents to the use of DAX for the recording of this visit and the creation of documentation.

Cough.
She has been experiencing a persistent cough for over a year, initially manifesting as a sensation akin to being choked in air during laughter. The severity of the cough has escalated to the point of causing nocturnal awakenings. She also reports occasional dysphagia and is uncertain if this symptom is related to her cough. Occasionally, she expectorates phlegm. Her son has suggested the cough to be sensory and neuropathic in nature.

Blood pressure readings and weight gain.
Her blood pressure readings today are within the normal range. She attributes her hypertension to weight gain. She expresses a desire to lose weight but finds it challenging to maintain a sedentary lifestyle. She is currently prescribed lisinopril for hypertension.
Social history.
She has grandchildren.

Assessment/Plan
1. Cough R05.9
The condition is chronic and has been progressively worsening.
Assessment: It is likely that her use of lisinopril may be a contributing factor. Further management will be determined based on her symptom improvement following the change in medication.
Meds: A switch from lisinopril to Olmesartan will be initiated to potentially alleviate her symptoms.
Labs: Screening labs have been ordered.
Imaging: N/A
Referral: N/A
Counseling: N/A
2. Essential hypertension I10
Chronic, controlled.
The hypertension is currently stable. The hypertension is likely secondary to her overall lifestyle. Complicated by patient's other comorbidities.
Meds: Lisinopril was discontinued, and she was started on Olmesartan to potentially alleviate her chronic cough.
Labs: Future labs sent.
Imaging: EKG is not on file.
Counseling: Lifestyle changes such as low salt diet, activity, and excess alcohol.
3. Hypothyroidism, acquired, autoimmune E06.3
Chronic, stable
Assessment: No changes in management will be made at this time.
Labs: A TSH test has been sent.
Meds: She will maintain her daily intake of levothyroxine 100 mcg.
Imaging: None
Counseling: Healthy activity and diet.
This note has been created using Dragon Ambient experience and was completed in the EHR by Marvin Miano.

[1] Result Comment: UNABLE TO PERFORM RATIO DUE TO MICROALBUMIN <1.2. ST

[2] Interpretive Data: Glomerular Filtration Rate Estimation
GFR >=60 ml/min/1.73 m sq (Expected Range)

Stage 4 Severe Decrease 15-29
Stage 5 Kidney Failure <15

Patients>70 years of age have a normal range of 45-59mL/min/1.73m sq.

If patient is African American result must be multiplied by 1.21

GFR is increased during pregnancy

5/13/22 5:00 PM	CT Head w/o Contrast	Campbell, Cynthia;	Auth (Verified)

Notes:
(CT Head w/o Contrast) Reason For Exam: Facial trauma, blunt
REPORT
EXAMINATION: CT HEAD W/O CONTRAST
Date: 5/13/2022 4:59 PM
History: Female, 69 years old. Facial trauma, blunt Contrast Documented? -- N/A Tech Notes: -- hit in head/face with scooter / pt states on blood thinners

COMPARISON: Brain MRI performed 9/30/2020

Technique: Noncontrast imaging of the head. One or more of these dose optimization techniques were utilized: Automated exposure control; mA and/or kV adjustment per patient size (includes targeted exams where dose is matched to clinical indication); or iterative reconstruction.

FINDINGS:
Intracranial: No mass effect or midline shift. No CT evidence of acute ischemia or infarction. No abnormal extra-axial collections. No acute intracranial hemorrhage. Negative for hydrocephalus. The basilar cisterns and foramen magnum are preserved.

Atrophy/white matter: Age appropriate cerebral volume and white matter.

Scalp and soft tissues: No acute findings.
Orbits (visible): Unremarkable.

Sinuses and mastoids: A small amount of fluid is seen within the left maxillary sinus. Clear mastoid air cells.
Bones: Unremarkable calvarium and other visualized bony structures.

Additional comments: None.

IMPRESSION: No acute intracranial pathology is identified.

Head Injury, Adult

Head Injury, Adult

There are many types of head injuries. Head injuries can be as minor as a small bump, or they can be a serious medical issue. More severe head injuries include:

• A jarring injury to the brain (concussion).

• A bruise (contusion) of the brain. This means there is bleeding in the brain that can cause swelling.

• A cracked skull (skull fracture).

• Bleeding in the brain that collects, clots, and forms a bump (hematoma).

After a head injury, most problems occur within the first 24 hours, but side effects may occur up to 7–10 days after the injury. It is important to watch your condition for any changes. You may need to be observed in the emergency department or urgent care, or you may be admitted to the hospital.

What are the causes?

There are many possible causes of a head injury. Serious head injuries may be caused by car accidents, bicycle or motorcycle accidents, sports injuries, falls, or being struck by an object.

What are the symptoms?

Symptoms of a head injury include a contusion, bump, or bleeding at the site of the injury. Other physical symptoms may include:

• Headache.
• Nausea or vomiting.
• Dizziness.
• Blurred or double vision.
• Being uncomfortable around bright lights or loud noises.
• Seizures.
• Feeling tired.
• Trouble being awakened.
• Loss of consciousness.

Mental or emotional symptoms may include:

• Irritability.
• Confusion and memory problems.
• Poor attention and concentration.
• Changes in eating or sleeping habits.
• Anxiety or depression.

How is this diagnosed?

This condition can usually be diagnosed based on your symptoms, a description of the injury, and a physical exam. You may also have imaging tests done, such as a CT scan or an MRI.

How is this treated?

Treatment for this condition depends on the severity and type of injury you have. The main goal of treatment is to prevent complications and allow the brain time to heal.

Mild head injury

If you have a mild head injury, you may be sent home, and treatment may include:

• Observation. A responsible adult should stay with you for 24 hours after your injury and check on you often.
• Physical rest.
• Brain rest.
• Pain medicines.

Severe head injury

If you have a severe head injury, treatment may include:

• Close observation. This includes hospitalization with the following care:
◦ Frequent physical exams.
◦ Frequent checks of how your brain and nervous system are working (neurological status).
◦ Checking your blood pressure and oxygen levels.
• Medicines to relieve pain, prevent seizures, and decrease brain swelling.
• Airway protection and breathing support. This may include using a ventilator.
• Treatments that monitor and manage swelling inside the brain.
• Brain surgery. This may be needed to:
◦ Remove a collection of blood or blood clots.
◦ Stop the bleeding.
◦ Remove a part of the skull to allow room for the brain to swell.

Follow these instructions at home:

Activity

• Rest and avoid activities that are physically hard or tiring.

• Make sure you get enough sleep.
• Let your brain rest by limiting activities that require a lot of thought or attention, such as:
◦ Watching TV.
◦ Playing memory games and puzzles.
◦ Job-related work or homework.
◦ Working on the computer, using social media, and texting.
• Avoid activities that could cause another head injury, such as playing sports, until your health care provider approves. Having another head injury, especially before the first one has healed, can be dangerous.
• Ask your health care provider when it is safe for you to return to your regular activities, including work or school. Ask your health care provider for a step-by-step plan for gradually returning to activities.
• Ask your health care provider when you can drive, ride a bicycle, or use heavy machinery. Your ability to react may be slower after a brain injury. Do not do these activities if you are dizzy.

Lifestyle

• Do not drink alcohol until your health care provider approves. Do not use drugs. Alcohol and certain drugs may slow your recovery and can put you at risk of further injury.
• If it is harder than usual to remember things, write them down.
• If you are easily distracted, try to do one thing at a time.
• Talk with family members or close friends when making important decisions.
• Tell your friends, family, a trusted colleague, and work manager about your injury, symptoms, and restrictions. Have them watch for any new or worsening problems.

General instructions

• Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.
• Have someone stay with you for 24 hours after your head injury. This person should watch you for any changes in your symptoms and be ready to seek medical help.
• Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

How is this prevented?

• Work on improving your balance and strength to avoid falls.
• Wear a seat belt when you are in a moving vehicle.
• Wear a helmet when riding a bicycle, skiing, or doing any other sport or activity that has a risk of injury.
• If you drink alcohol:
◦ Limit how much you use to:
▪ 0–1 drink a day for nonpregnant women.
▪ 0–2 drinks a day for men.
◦ Be aware of how much alcohol is in your drink. In the U.S., one drink equals one 12 oz bottle of beer (355 mL), one 5 oz glass of wine (148 mL), or one 1½ oz glass of hard liquor (44 mL).
• Take safety measures in your home, such as:
◦ Removing clutter and tripping hazards from floors and stairways.
◦ Using grab bars in bathrooms and handrails by stairs.
◦ Placing non-slip mats on floors and in bathtubs.
◦ Improving lighting in dim areas.

Where to find more information

• Centers for Disease Control and Prevention: www.cdc.gov

Get help right away if:

• You have:
◦ A severe headache that is not helped by medicine.
◦ Trouble walking or weakness in your arms and legs.
◦ Clear or bloody fluid coming from your nose or ears.
◦ Changes in your vision.
◦ A seizure.
◦ Increased confusion or irritability.
• Your symptoms get worse.

• You are sleepier than normal and have trouble staying awake.
• You lose your balance.
• Your pupils change size.
• Your speech is slurred.
• Your dizziness gets worse.
• You vomit.

These symptoms may represent a serious problem that is an emergency. Do not wait to see if the symptoms will go away. Get medical help right away. Call your local emergency services (911 in the U.S.). Do not drive yourself to the hospital.

Summary

• Head injuries can be minor, or they can be a serious medical issue requiring immediate attention.
• Treatment for this condition depends on the severity and type of injury you have.
• Have someone stay with you for 24 hours after your injury and check on you often.
• Ask your health care provider when it is safe for you to return to your regular activities, including work or school.
• Head injury prevention includes wearing a seat belt in a motor vehicle, using a helmet on a bicycle, limiting alcohol use, and taking safety measures in your home.

Sutures, Staples, or Adhesive Wound Closure

Sutures, Staples, or Adhesive Wound Closure

Wound closure refers to holding skin and underlying tissue together while it heals, such as after surgery or after an injury. Health care providers use stitches (sutures), staples, and special types of glue (skin adhesives) to close wounds. Your health care provider will use a wound closure method that helps you heal quickly and reduces the chances of infection or scarring. The type of wound closure depends on the location, size, and depth of your wound.

In most cases, wounds are closed as soon as possible (primary skin closure). Sometimes, closure is delayed so the wound can be cleaned and then can heal naturally over weeks or months (delayed wound closure). This reduces the chance of infection.

What are the different types of wound closure?

Adhesive glue

To use adhesive glue, your health care provider holds the edges of the wound together and paints the glue on the surface of your skin. You may need more than one layer of glue. Once the glue is dry, the wound may be covered with a dressing.

This type of skin closure may be used for small wounds that are not deep (superficial wounds). It is often used for children and on facial wounds. Adhesive glue is less painful than other methods of wound closure, and it does not require a medicine to numb the area (local anesthetic). This method also leaves nothing to be removed.

Adhesive glue cannot be used for wounds that are deep, uneven, or bleeding. It is not used inside of a wound.

Adhesive strips

These strips are made of paper that is sticky (adhesive) and has many small holes in it (is porous). They are applied across your wound edges like a regular bandage.

Adhesive strips may be used to close very shallow wounds. They may be used along with sutures to improve skin closure.

Sutures

Sutures come in many different materials, strengths, and sizes. They may break down as your wound heals (absorbable), or they may need to be removed (nonabsorbable).

Your health care provider sews your skin or the tissues under your skin together with sutures and a steel needle. Your skin edges may be closed in one long (continuous) stitch or in separate stitches. Then the sutures are tied and cut.

Sutures can be used for all kinds of wounds. Absorbable sutures may be used to close tissues under the skin. Sutures can cause a skin reaction that can lead to infection.

Staples

When staples are used to close a wound, the edges of your skin on both sides of the wound are brought close together. A staple is placed across the wound, and an instrument secures the staple edges together.

Staples are often used to close surgical incisions. They are faster to use than sutures, and they cause less skin reaction. Staples need to be removed using a tool that bends the staples away from your skin.

Follow these instructions at home:

Medicines

• Take over-the-counter and prescription medicines only as told by your health care provider.

• If you were prescribed an antibiotic medicine, take it as told by your health care provider. Do not stop taking the antibiotic even if you start to feel better.

Wound care

• Follow instructions from your health care provider about how to take care of your wound and dressing.

• Wash your hands with soap and water before and after touching your wound or dressing. If soap and water are not available, use hand sanitizer.

• Do not try to remove your wound closures unless your health care provider tells you to do that. You may need a follow-up visit with your health care provider to remove your closures.

◦ Wound closures may stay in place for 2 weeks or longer.

◦ Absorbable sutures may dissolve after a few days or weeks.

◦ If adhesive strip edges start to loosen and curl up, you may trim the loose edges.

• Do not pick at your wound. Picking can cause an infection.

• Apply ointments or creams only as told by your health care provider.

• Check your wound every day for signs of infection. Check for:

◦ Redness, swelling, or pain.

◦ Fluid or blood.

◦ Warmth.

◦ Pus or a bad smell.

General instructions

• Do not take baths, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves. Ask your health care provider if you may take showers. You may only be allowed to take sponge baths.

• Do not soak your wound in water.

• Keep all follow-up visits as told by your health care provider. This is important.

Contact a health care provider if you:

• Have a fever or chills.

• Have redness, swelling, or pain around your wound.

• Have fluid or blood coming from your wound.

• Notice that your wound feels warm to the touch.

• Notice pus or a bad smell coming from your wound.

• Notice that the edges of your wound start to separate after your sutures come out.

• Notice that your wound becomes thick, raised, and darker in color after your sutures come out (scarring).

Summary

• The type of wound closure that your health care provider will use depends on the location, size, and depth of your wound. Options to close wounds include stitches (sutures), staples, special types of glue (skin adhesives), and adhesive strips.

• Your health care provider will use a wound closure method that helps you heal quickly and reduces the chances of infection or scarring.

• Do not soak your wound in water. Do not take baths, shower, swim, or use a hot tub until your health care provider approves.

Chief Complaint
Pt's nightgown caused scooter (used d/t Rt ankle/foot fx) to hit face when attempting to use BR. Steri-stripped lac (approx 2cm) above Rt brow, 1cm lac below/outer aspect of Rt eye, 3mm lac to bridge of nose, contact rem'd PTA. No LOC. Pt is on Plavix.
History of Present Illness
Patient presents with lacerations to face.
Patient reports symptoms started about 1-hour prior to arrival when her nightgown was caught up in her scooter wheel and her scooter struck her face. Patient reports lacerations to forehead, under right eye, and bridge of nose. Patient is on Plavix, denies loss of consciousness, was able to control bleeding after pressure for 40 minutes.
It has been over 5 years since patient's last Tdap, tetanus vaccine was given
Review of Systems
Constitutional: [denies fevers, chills, sweats, body aches]
Eye: [denies recent visual problems]
ENT: [denies ear pain, sore throat, rhinorrhea, nasal congestion, loss of taste or smell]
Respiratory: [denies cough, wheezing, shortness of breath]

Cardiovascular: [denies chest pain, palpitations, syncope]
Gastrointestinal: [denies nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, abdominal pain]
Genitourinary: [denies dysuria, hematuria, urinary frequency]
Physical Exam
Vitals & Measurements
T: 36.7 °C (Oral) HR: 102(Peripheral) RR: 16 BP: 105/72 SpO2: 98%
HT: 162.56 cm WT: 77.11 kg BMI: 29 O2 Therapy: Room air
General: [Alert and oriented, no acute distress, patient does not appear ill or debilitated].
Eye: [PERRL, EOMI, normal conjunctiva].
HENT: [Normocephalic, contusion to forehead above right eyebrow, ecchymosis under right eye, to bridge of nose, and linear redness extending from under right eye to chin (appears to be a pattern contusion) septum was central, turbinates appeared normal, mild airflow restriction in nostrils, no rhinorrhea or blood present, TMs appeared shinny & healthy bilaterally without fluid in canal, pharynx appeared intact, no postnasal drip was identified].
Neck: [Supple, non-tender, no JVD, no lymphadenopathy].
Lungs: [Normal chest expansion, breath sounds are audible & normal bilaterally, lungs are clear to auscultation bilaterally].
Heart: [Normal rate, regular rhythm, no murmur, gallop or edema].
Skin: [There is a 2 cm laceration diagonally on forehead above medial eyebrow, a 1 cm skin tear over medial surface of zygomatic arch, and a 3 mm diameter abrasion to bridge of nose that is scabbed over].
Procedure
Procedure explained and consent obtained from patient. Wound was identified as 2 mm laceration above the right eyebrow. Anesthesia was obtained via local infiltration with 2 ml of 1% lidocaine. A sterile field was established. Wound was irrigated with 0.9% NS. Wound exploration reveals minimal depth with no foreign bodies or deep tissue injury noted. The wound edges were approximated with good alignment using 5 simple interrupted sutures with 5.0 Ethilon, Hemostasis was obtained Sterile technique was maintained throughout the duration of the procedure.
Sterile skin glue was applied to 1 mm skin tear under right eye over the surface of the zygomatic arch. The patient tolerated the procedures well without complication.

Assessment/Plan
1. Face lacerations S01.81XA
- See clinical media for capture
- Patient was advised to observe wounds for signs of infection, return in 5 to 6 days for suture removal
2. Fall at home W19.XXXA
- Safety information given to patient discussed not wearing loose clothing around wheels
3. Head injury S09.90XA
- Patient will not be staying alone tonight, husband will be home and patient will be observed for signs or symptoms of post head injury sequelae
4. Facial trauma S09.93XA
- Patient takes Plavix daily, head/facial CT to follow

EXAMINATION: CT HEAD W/O CONTRAST
Date: 5/13/2022 4:59 PM
History: Female, 69 years old. Facial trauma, blunt Contrast Documented? -- N/A Tech Notes: -- hit in head/face with scooter / pt states on blood thinners

COMPARISON: Brain MRI performed 9/30/2020

Technique: Noncontrast imaging of the head. One or more of these dose optimization techniques were utilized: Automated exposure control; mA and/or kV adjustment per patient size (includes targeted exams where dose is matched to clinical indication); or iterative reconstruction.

FINDINGS:
Intracranial: No mass effect or midline shift. No CT evidence of acute ischemia or infarction. No abnormal extra-axial collections. No acute intracranial hemorrhage. Negative for hydrocephalus. The basilar cisterns and foramen magnum are preserved.

Atrophy/white matter: Age appropriate cerebral volume and white matter.

Scalp and soft tissues: No acute findings.
Orbits (visible): Unremarkable.

Sinuses and mastoids: A small amount of fluid is seen within the left maxillary sinus. Clear mastoid air cells.
Bones: Unremarkable calvarium and other visualized bony structures.

Additional comments: None.

IMPRESSION: No acute intracranial pathology is identified.

[1] Interpretive Data: Normal: 0 - 29

Moderately increased: 30 - 300

Severely increased: >300

[2] Interpretive Data: Glomerular Filtration Rate Estimation

GFR >=60 ml/min/1.73 m sq (Expected Range)

Stage 4 Severe Decrease 15-29

Stage 5 Kidney Failure <15

Patients>70 years of age have a normal range of 45-59mL/min/1.73m sq.

If patient is African American result must be multiplied by 1.21

GFR is increased during pregnancy

Radiology Reports

Exam Date Time	Procedure	Performing Provider	Status
6/1/22 10:42 AM	XR Ankle Complete 3+ Views Right	Dubes, Shelby;	Auth (Verified)

Notes:
(XR Ankle Complete 3+ Views Right) Reason For Exam: AFTERCARE FOLLOWING SURGERY REPORT
EXAMINATION: XR ANKLE, MIN 3 VIEWS, RT
Date: 6/1/2022 10:34 AM
History: Female, 69 years old. AFTERCARE FOLLOWING SURGERY Tech Notes: -- Pt states routine 6 week f/u right ankle ORIF.

COMPARISON: 11 April 2022, 4 May 2022.

Technique: Right ankle 3 views.

FINDINGS:

Bones: A metallic plate and multiple screws transfix a fracture of the distal fibula. Margins of the fracture are becoming indistinct indicating that healing is occurring. A single screw also transfixes a fracture of the proximal 5th metatarsal. The margin of this fracture also is becoming indistinct indicating that healing is occurring. Minimal plantar and Achilles spurring of the attachments to the calcaneus is noted. Calcification in the Achilles tendon also is noted.

Joint: Normal alignment.

Soft tissues: Unremarkable.

IMPRESSION:
1. Satisfactory internal fixation, alignment, and progression towards healing of fractures of the distal fibula and the proximal 5th metatarsal.
2. Calcaneal spurring.
3. Calcification of the Achilles tendon.

Chief Complaint
Cough x 2 weeks, Yellow nasal drainaige, ears popping ; thinks she has a sinus infection
History of Present Illness
Pt is here stating she has a cough for 2 weeks with some yellow nasal drainage and ears popping - states that she thinks she has a sinus infection. About halfway through dosing her symptoms with the patient, she states that she tried to smell her Bath & Body Works hand sanitizer and could not even smell it at all because her head is so stuffed up. After discussing that that is a symptom of coronavirus, pt reluctantly agrees to a COVID-19 test. After the swab comes back negative, patient states that she can now smell and taste but had lost both approximately 1 week ago. Denies SOB.
Review of Systems
See HPI ROS all others reviewed and negative except for those mentioned in HPI.

Assessment/Plan
1. Loss of perception for smell R48.1, Loss of perception for taste R48.1
Discussed with patient that she likely had COVID-19, but should no longer be contagious since it has been 2+ weeks since her initial symptoms; pt verbalized understanding. Recommended Tylenol for fever, body aches. Discussed symptom control and recommended cool-mist humidifier at bedside, sleeping prone and/or practicing prone positioning several times daily, salt water gargles, warm tea with honey, increased fluid intake, and rest. May take Vitamin C 1000mg daily, Zinc 50-100mg daily, probiotics, Vitamin D 5,000 units daily, and ASA 81mg daily. Pt to go to ER for worsening SOB, SOB at rest, or difficulty breathing; pt voiced understanding once again.

Assessment/Plan

1. Aftercare following surgery Z48.89

After assessment, x-rays were reviewed. Patient will now begin toe touching weightbearing. She will use crutches to help weight bear toe touching. She will follow-up in 4 weeks time with x-rays upon arrival. At that time Dr. Varhan is hopeful that the patient will weight-bear in her boot. We will follow-up sooner if problems arise. We will continue her home exercises as discussed at last appointment.

History of Present Illness

New pt - Here today to establish. Hx of stroke about 5 years ago. Recent images showed 2 brain aneurysms. Pt states other neurologist are giving her different information. Pt states no other sx. Dr. Akande referring.

Brain in May 13 was normal.
She is here for brain aneurysm.
3 years ago she was told that if she has no brain aneurysm with neurosurgeon.
Patient saw Dr. Lee and was told that she has 2 small aneurysms 4 years.
Patient saw Dr. Riebe all which made her cry and told that she does have brain aneurysm but there is no problem.

So she is trying to get another opinion

We reviewed what is the maximized and we can do

She has some history of a stroke 80 years ago and was seen in Parkview

For the stroke she is taking aspirin and Plavix I reviewed risks

That she already knew take 1 month then

She had occasional headaches but not anymore

Radiology Reports

Exam Date Time	Procedure	Performing Provider	Status
7/20/22 1:46 PM	CT Angio Brain/Head	Alwine, Kyndale;	Auth (Verified)

Notes:
(CT Angio Brain/Head) Reason For Exam: Cerebral aneurysm, follow-up
REPORT
EXAMINATION: CTA HEAD
Date: 7/20/2022 1:36 PM
History: Female, 69 years old. History of CVA. Evaluation for cerebral aneurysm.

COMPARISON: None.

Technique: Intravenous contrast was administered and imaging of the neck and head was obtained during the arterial phase of the contrast bolus. Two-dimensional and 3-D MIP images for post processing were performed and reviewed. Vessel analysis software was utilized to calculate the minor and major diameter measurements in areas of arterial stenosis. One or more of these dose optimization techniques were utilized: Automated exposure control; mA and/or kV adjustment per patient size (includes targeted exams where dose is matched to clinical indication); or iterative reconstruction. 100 cc of Isovue-370 were administered for this exam.

FINDINGS:

CTA HEAD:
Intracranial arteries:

Internal carotid arteries: Vascular plaque is present involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs. The degree of stenosis is estimated at less than 50% bilaterally.

Anterior cerebral arteries: Widely patent.

Middle cerebral arteries: Widely patent.

Posterior circulation: Widely patent.

Circle of Willis: Normal anatomic variability.

Vertebrobasilar system: Widely patent.

Brain parenchyma: Unremarkable arterial phase, postcontrast appearance.
Extra-axial structures: Unremarkable.

Additional comments: None.

IMPRESSION:
1. No obvious intracranial aneurysm demonstrated on this study. No aneurysms are identified on previous imaging. If the patient has outside imaging demonstrating an aneurysm, we would be happy to review that study and compare to the current exam to discuss a possible very small aneurysm not well demonstrated on this exam.

2. Vascular disease involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs without evidence of a greater than 50% stenosis.

7/20/22 2:03 PM	BD Bone Density DEXA Axial Skeleton	Steg, Rhonda;	Auth (Verified)

Notes:
(BD Bone Density DEXA Axial Skeleton) Reason For Exam: screening for osteoporosis, history of fracture
REPORT
EXAMINATION: DEXA BONE SCAN BODY

DATE OF EXAM: 7/20/2022 1:26 PM
CURRENT HISTORY: Female, 69 years old. Osteoporosis screening. Postmenopausal.
PREVIOUS HISTORY: As above.
TECHNIQUE: DXA scan was obtained in correspondence with the recommendations of the World Health Organization and interpretation is accordance with the International Society of Clinical Densitometry 2007 and 2010 consensus statements.

World Health Organization guidelines:
Age-matched gender matched patients (menopausal transition or postmenopausal females and men over 50)
Normal bone mineral density = greater than or equal to -1.0 T-score.
Low bone mass = less than -1.0 through -2.5 T-score value.
Osteoporosis = less than or equal to -2.5 T-score.

PERFORMING SITE/MACHINE: Logansport Memorial Hospital; GE Lunar

COMPARISON: None.

FINDINGS:

SPINE: L1-L4
T-score current: -0.4
BMD (g/cm2) current: 1.146

LEFT FEMORAL NECK:
T-score current: -1.1
BMD (g/cm2) current: 0.879

RIGHT FEMORAL NECK:
T-score current: -1.3
BMD (g/cm2) current: 0.852

LEFT TOTAL FEMUR:
T-score current: -0.5
BMD (g/cm2) current: 0.939

RIGHT TOTAL FEMUR:
T-score current: -1.3
BMD (g/cm2) current: 0.843

Right femoral neck WHO FRAX score:
FRAX calculation based on the lowest femoral neck BMD using the WHO fracture risk assessment tool (http://www.shef.ac.uk/FRAX/tool.jsp)
Major osteoporotic: 8.3 % (greater than or equal 20% = consider medication)
Hip fracture: 0.9 % (greater than or equal 3% = consider medication)

The National Osteoporosis Foundation (NOF) using FRAX to assist with treatment decision when the following are true:
1. Untreated postmenopausal woman or a man age 50 or older.
2. Low bone mass/osteopenia (T-score between -1 and -2.5).
3. No prior hip or vertebral fracture.
4. An evaluable hip for DXA study (i.e. no bilateral prostheses).

IMPRESSION:

1. Osteopenia (low bone density) based on lowest T-score value of -1.3 at right femoral neck and right total femur.

2. No prior or prior not comparable.

3. Does not meet NOF threshold for medication therapy; however, other clinical factors may supersede this recommendation. National Osteoporosis Foundation (NOF) recommends considering drug therapy for osteopenia (T score -1 to -2.5) in individuals with estimated 10 year hip fracture greater than or equal 3% or major osteoporotic related fracture greater than or equal 20%. Follow up scan in 18-24 months or as clinically indicated.

Exam Date Time	Procedure	Performing Provider	Status
7/20/22 1:26 PM	MG Mammo Digital Screening Bilateral	Rogers, Desire;	Auth (Verified)

Notes:
(MG Mammo Digital Screening Bilateral) Reason For Exam: Screening mammogram
REPORT
EXAMINATION: MG MAMMO SCREENING BILAT + TOMO
Date: 7/20/2022 1:18 PM
History: Female, 69 years old. Screening mammogram

COMPARISON: February 10, 2020 and January 2, 2013

Technique: Routine screening 2D and 3D tomosynthesis were performed. CAD was utilized.

Density: The breast tissue is heterogeneously dense which could obscure small masses.

BILATERAL 2D and 3D SCREENING MAMMOGRAM FINDINGS: Benign bilateral breast calcifications. No suspicious calcifications or masses; no architectural distortion.

IMPRESSION: No mammographic evidence of malignancy. Annual screening mammograms along with monthly self-breast exams are recommended.

BI-RADS 2: Benign findings(s)

RECOMMENDATION: Annual screening mammography.

A letter is sent to the patient reporting the results of the exam.

Assessment/Plan
1. Fracture of lateral malleolus of right ankle S82.61XA
2. Displaced fracture of fifth metatarsal bone, right foot, subsequent encounter for fracture with routine healing S92.351D
3. Aftercare following surgery Z48.89
Patient was seen today in regards to her right ankle fracture. She does not have any pain. I reviewed her x-rays and her fracture is healed in good position. On examination however there was quite a bit of swelling of her right foot and there was some redness and warmth throughout her foot. She will stop wearing her walking boot and ambulate with regular shoes. I will see her in 2 weeks time just to make sure that the redness and swelling is resolving. Does not need any x-rays of her ankle at that time. If she Continues to have redness we may need to work her up with blood work for possible infection and cellulitis. I asked Jamie Ross to see her foot today and she told me that her foot did not look the way it looked today when she saw her last time.

Subjective

Hx of stroke about 5 years ago. Recent images showed 2 brain aneurysms. Pt states other neurologist are giving her different information. Pt states no other sx. Dr. Akande referring.

saw neuro S and told no aneurysm

IMPRESSION:

1. No obvious intracranial aneurysm demonstrated on this study. No aneurysms are identified on previous imaging. If the patient has outside imaging demonstrating an aneurysm, we would be happy to review that study and compare to the current exam to discuss a possible very small aneurysm not well demonstrated on this exam.

2. Vascular disease involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs without evidence of a greater than 50% stenosis.

Internal carotid arteries: Vascular plaque is present involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs. The degree of stenosis is estimated at less than 50% bilaterally.

Radiology Reports

Exam Date Time	Procedure	Performing Provider	Status
9/9/22 12:56 PM	US Carotid Duplex Bilateral	Smith, Natalie;	Auth (Verified)

Notes:
(US Carotid Duplex Bilateral) Reason For Exam: dizzy et al
REPORT
EXAMINATION: US CAROTIDS, BILATERAL

DATE OF EXAM: 9/9/2022 10:55 AM
CURRENT HISTORY: Female, 69 years old. The patient complained of dizziness. History of hyperlipidemia and hypertension.
PREVIOUS HISTORY: As above.

COMPARISON: Carotid ultrasound 9/30/2020.

FINDINGS:

Internal carotid stenosis estimations are based on velocities using Society of Radiologists in Ultrasound (SRU) criteria.

RIGHT CAROTID SYSTEM:
ICA peak systolic velocity: 66 cm/sec.

ICA end diastolic velocity: 21 cm/sec.

ICA/CCA peak systolic ratio: 0.9

ICA plaque: Mild plaque burden. The plaque is echogenic with calcified shadowing elements.

RIGHT VERTEBRAL ARTERY WAVEFORM: Normal.

ICA peak systolic velocity: 96 cm/sec.
ICA end diastolic velocity: 23 cm/sec.

ICA/CCA peak systolic ratio: 1.5

ICA plaque: Mild to moderate plaque burden. The plaque is echogenic with calcified shadowing elements.

LEFT VERTEBRAL ARTERY WAVEFORM: Normal.

THYROID: Any visualized thyroid tissue is unremarkable.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS: None.

IMPRESSION:

1. Mild plaque within the proximal right internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

2. Mild to moderate plaque within the proximal left internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

3. Antegrade vertebral artery flow.

Velocity criteria are extrapolated from diameter data as defined by the Society of Radiologists in Ultrasound Consensus Conference, Radiology 2003; 229;340-346.

Chief Complaint
F/u for test results. Carotid ultrasound. No other complaints. No symptoms.
History of Present Illness

1. Asymptomatic stenosis of intracranial artery I66.9

2. Hyperlipidemia LDL goal <70 E78.5

3. Carotid stenosis I65.29

4. Dizzy spells R42

5. History of CVA in adulthood Z86.73

iphone

Hx of stroke about 5 years ago. Recent images showed 2 brain aneurysms. Pt states other neurologist are giving her different information. Pt states no other sx. Dr. Akande referring. CTA no aneurysm

saw neuro S and told no aneurysm

IMPRESSION:
1. No obvious intracranial aneurysm demonstrated on this study. No aneurysms are identified on previous imaging. If the patient has outside imaging demonstrating an aneurysm, we would be happy to review that study and compare to the current exam to discuss a possible very small aneurysm not well demonstrated on this exam.

2. Vascular disease involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs without evidence of a greater than 50% stenosis.

Internal carotid arteries: Vascular plaque is present involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs. The degree of stenosis is estimated at less than 50% bilaterally.
on lipid med
  on asa/plavix after cva and on lipitor, now only plavix

1. Mild plaque within the proximal right internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

2. Mild to moderate plaque within the proximal left internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

Chief Complaint
Pt is here for 1 year follow up of carotid stenosis. Pt states she continues to take Plavix. Pt states she has been experiencing dizzy spells for approx. 1 year.
History of Present Illness
1. Asymptomatic stenosis of intracranial artery I66.9, but normal mra brain and did see neuro surgery

2020 mra ok
2022 cta

IMPRESSION:
1. No obvious intracranial aneurysm demonstrated on this study. No aneurysms are identified on previous imaging. If the patient has outside imaging demonstrating an aneurysm, we would be happy to review that study and compare to the current exam to discuss a possible very small aneurysm not well demonstrated on this exam.

2. Vascular disease involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs without evidence of a greater than 50% stenosis.

2. Hyperlipidemia LDL goal <70 E78.5

3. Carotid stenosis I65.29

4. Dizzy spells R42

5. History of CVA in adulthood Z86.73

iphone

Hx of stroke about 5 years ago. Recent images showed 2 brain aneurysms. Pt states other neurologist are giving her different information. Pt states no other sx. Dr. Akande referring. CTA no aneurysm

saw neuro S and told no aneurysm

Internal carotid arteries: Vascular plaque is present involving the cavernous portions of the ICAs. The degree of stenosis is estimated at less than 50% bilaterally.
on lipid med

on asa/plavix after cva and on lipitor, now only plavix

1. Mild plaque within the proximal right internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

2. Mild to moderate plaque within the proximal left internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

Radiology Reports

Exam Date Time	Procedure	Performing Provider	Status
9/26/23 2:52 PM	US Carotid Duplex Bilateral	Smith, Natalie;	Auth (Verified)

Notes:
(US Carotid Duplex Bilateral) Reason For Exam: dizzy
REPORT
EXAMINATION: US CAROTIDS, BILATERAL
Date: 9/26/2023 2:08 PM
History: Female, 70 years old. Dizzy. Hyperlipidemia and hypertension.

COMPARISON: 9/9/2022 carotid ultrasound

FINDINGS:

Internal carotid stenosis estimations are based on velocities using Society of Radiologists in Ultrasound (SRU) criteria.

RIGHT CAROTID SYSTEM:
ICA peak systolic velocity: 70 cm/sec.
ICA end diastolic velocity: 30 cm/sec.

ICA/CCA peak systolic ratio: 1.2

ICA plaque: Mild plaque burden. The plaque is echogenic with calcified shadowing elements.

RIGHT VERTEBRAL ARTERY WAVEFORM: Normal.

ICA peak systolic velocity: 126 cm/sec.
ICA end diastolic velocity: 43 cm/sec.

ICA/CCA peak systolic ratio: 1.9

ICA plaque: Mild to moderate plaque burden. The plaque is echogenic with calcified and non calcified hypoechoic shadowing elements.

LEFT VERTEBRAL ARTERY WAVEFORM: Normal.

THYROID: Any visualized thyroid tissue is unremarkable.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS: None.

IMPRESSION:
1. Mild plaque within the proximal right internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis). No change in carotid stenosis from prior study.

2. Mild to moderate plaque within the proximal left internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate a 50-69% diameter stenosis. Increase in carotid stenosis from prior study.

3. Normal antegrade vertebral flow.

Velocity criteria are extrapolated from diameter data as defined by the Society of Radiologists in Ultrasound Consensus Conference, Radiology 2003; 229;340-346.

REPORT
EXAMINATION: MRI BRAIN W/O CONTRAST
Date: 9/30/2020 9:37 AM
History: Female, 67 years old. Prior stroke in 2014. No complaints per patient recently. Follow-up.

COMPARISON: None.

Technique: Non-contrast MRI imaging of the brain.

FINDINGS:

Brain parenchyma: No masses, midline shift; no hemorrhage or acute infarct.
Diffusion: Unremarkable; no acute stroke.
Atrophy: None.
Microvascular: None.

Vessels: Unremarkable noncontrast appearance.
Extra-axial spaces: Normal for the patient's age.
Ventricles: No hydrocephalus; normal size for age.

Bones: Unremarkable calvarium and other visualized bony structures.
Sinuses and mastoids: Clear.

Soft tissues and scalp: Unremarkable.
Orbits (visible): Unremarkable.

Additional comments: None.

IMPRESSION: Normal MRI of the brain.

Notes:
(US Carotid Duplex Bilateral) Reason For Exam: I63.9
REPORT
EXAMINATION: US CAROTIDS, BILATERAL
Date: 9/30/2020 9:35 AM
History: Female, 67 years old. I63.9

COMPARISON: None.

Technique: Grayscale, color Doppler, and pulse wave Doppler analysis of both right and left carotid system(s).

FINDINGS:

Internal carotid stenosis estimations are based on velocities using Society of Radiologists in Ultrasound (SRU) criteria.

RIGHT CAROTID SYSTEM:
ICA peak systolic velocity: 78 cm/sec.
ICA end diastolic velocity: 25 cm/sec.

ICA/CCA peak systolic ratio: 1.1

ICA plaque: Mild plaque burden.The plaque is echogenic with calcified shadowing elements. Also noncalcified hyperechoic intimal plaque

RIGHT VERTEBRAL ARTERY WAVEFORM: Normal.

ICA peak systolic velocity: 111 cm/sec.
ICA end diastolic velocity: 25 cm/sec.

ICA/CCA peak systolic ratio: 1.4

ICA plaque: Mild plaque burden. The plaque is echogenic with calcified shadowing elements. Also noncalcified hyperechoic intimal plaque

LEFT VERTEBRAL ARTERY WAVEFORM: Normal.

THYROID: Any visualized thyroid tissue is unremarkable.

ADDITIONAL COMMENTS: None.

IMPRESSION:
1. Mild plaque within the proximal right internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis).

2. Mild plaque within the proximal left internal carotid artery. Doppler velocity measurements indicate no hemodynamically significant stenosis (less than 50% diameter stenosis).

3. Normal antegrade vertebral flow.

Velocity criteria are extrapolated from diameter data as defined by the Society of Radiologists in Ultrasound Consensus Conference, Radiology 2003; 229;340-346.

[1] Interpretive Data: Glomerular Filtration Rate Estimation
GFR >=60 ml/min/1.73 m sq (Expected Range)

Stage 4 Severe Decrease 15-29
Stage 5 Kidney Failure <15

Patients>70 years of age have a normal range of 45-59mL/min/1.73m sq.

If patient is African American result must be multiplied by 1.21

GFR is increased during pregnancy

Assessment and Plan

Extracted from:

Title: OV: multiple issues	Author: Akande MD, Olusina	Date: 10/8/24

1. Essential hypertension I10

Chronic, controlled.

Complicated by patient's other comorbidities, most likely complicated by the patient's lifestyle along with her history of CVA.

Meds: No current changes in management. The patient will continue to take amlodipine and olmesartan.

Labs: Future labs have been sent.

Imaging: EKG is not on file.

Counseling: Lifestyle changes such as low salt diet, activity, and excess alcohol.

2. History of CVA (cerebrovascular accident) without residual deficits Z86.73

Chronic, stable.

No changes in management. The patient will continue to take pravastatin.

3. CKD stage G3b/A1, GFR 30-44 and albumin creatinine ratio <30 mg/g N18.32

New diagnosis, uncontrolled.

Meds: N/A

Labs: On the review of the patient's labs and history, there does seem to be a slow increase in her creatinine with a decrease in her GFR. A repeat BMP has been sent.

Imaging: N/A

Referral: N/A

Counseling: N/A

4. Depression with anxiety F41.8

Chronic, stable.

The patient will continue to take venlafaxine.

5. Peripheral vascular disease, unspecified I73.9

The patient does have a history of CVA but has never had a diagnosis of peripheral vascular disease.

Chief Complaint
Telehealth
no concerns at this time
No way to do vitals
History of Present Illness
The patient is a 71-year-old female who presents for an audio visit.

This appointment was conducted utilizing an audio-only phone visit that permits communication between the patient and provider. Verbal consent was obtained from the patient to perform the encounter on 10/08/2024 and any questions about the visit were answered.
The patient reports that she has no significant concerns at this time. She has noticed that she can walk at a fairly brisk pace for a few miles without getting short of breath; however, she is curious as to why whenever she walks to pick up toys out of the yard that she starts to get short of breath. It was explained to the patient that picking up toys requires the use of muscles such as her lower back and her abdominals, which are likely not used as much whenever she is simply just walking.
Review of Systems

[1] Interpretive Data: Glomerular Filtration Rate Estimation
GFR >=60 ml/min/1.73 m sq (Expected Range)

Stage 4 Severe Decrease 15-29
Stage 5 Kidney Failure <15

Patients>70 years of age have a normal range of 45-59mL/min/1.73m sq.

If patient is African American result must be multiplied by 1.21

GFR is increased during pregnancy

[1] Interpretive Data: Glomerular Filtration Rate Estimation
GFR >=60 ml/min/1.73 m sq (Expected Range)

Stage 4 Severe Decrease 15-29
Stage 5 Kidney Failure <15

Patients>70 years of age have a normal range of 45-59mL/min/1.73m sq.

If patient is African American result must be multiplied by 1.21

GFR is increased during pregnancy

Chief Complaint
6 mo follow up
History of Present Illness
Vickie Berry is a 70-year-old female who presents to the office today for a follow-up visit. The patient has approved the use of DAX for the recording of this visit and the creation of documentation.

Prolonged grief disorder
The patient would like to discuss counseling. She notes that she has not tried counseling in the past. The patient mentions her mom and dad both died the same week from 10 years ago. She states her granddaughter also died 8 years ago. The patient reports her husband just got arrested for the third time for drunk driving. She reports that her husband was recently moped, and she is concerned that he will not leave. She notes that her husband has PTSD. She reports that her youngest son was diagnosed with Parkinson's disease approximately 1 year ago. She notes that she is afraid for her daughter to be 34 years old. She reports that she quit going to church because she does not know if she believes in God anymore.

Insomnia
The patient notes that she sleeps well. She reports that she takes trazodone. She notes that she wakes up at 4:30 AM and is unable to get back to sleep.

Vertigo
The patient reports that she has been experiencing dizziness for a few years. She notes that she will go 2 to 3 weeks without experiencing dizziness. She reports that she has not had a headache in approximately 10 years.
Keratoconus
The patient reports that she has keratoconus. She notes that she cannot see without contacts. She reports that she went 4 weeks without contacts. She notes that she was measured to have her cataracts off and was told that she had a stroke. She reports that she was told that she needed to follow up with her neurologist.

Assessment and Plan

Extracted from:

Title: Office Visit Note	Author: Lalla MD, Michael J	Date: 12/27/21

1. Hemorrhoids K64.9

Patient's initial complaint and presentation was for hemorrhoidal disease. Patient has had hemorrhoidal disease for about 10 years. Patient does not take any fiber supplements. I have advised the patient to start taking fiber supplements. This will help bulk up her stool and make her incidence of symptomatic hemorrhoidal disease decrease. Patient also understands it may take 2 to 3 months before the fiber starts having any significant effect.

2. History of colon polyps Z86.010

The patient also has a history of colon polyps on her last colonoscopy was about 6 years ago. I have recommended a high risk screening colonoscopy to the patient. I have explained the procedure and its risks in great detail and provided the patient with written literature on the same. The risks of the procedure include but are not limited to post procedure bleeding infection and perforation. This could necessitate exploration through a laparotomy or thoracotomy with repair resection or diversion of any injured area in the form of an ostomy. There is a chance of false negative exam meaning that there possibly would be a lesion that would not be visualized at the time of endoscopy. This could delay the discovery of this lesion and possibly have negative consequences for the patient. There is a chance of incomplete visualization of the colon. This could necessitate completion radiologic studies. The patient understands this and wishes to proceed.

Chief Complaint
Hemorrhoids
History of Present Illness
Patient is a 68-year-old female presenting for consultation for hemorrhoids. Patient has had banding of her hemorrhoids before which did not help. I did ask the patient if she takes any fiber supplements. She does not. We then discussed the relationship between fiber intake and hemorrhoid disease. Patient also noted that she is overdue for a colonoscopy. Her last colonoscopy was about 6 years ago and she had several polyps removed. She would like to have a colonoscopy performed. She denies any family history of colon cancer. She denies any significant amount of blood in her stool. She denies any significant weight loss.

HEENT the patient's extraocular muscles are intact. The patient's cranial nerves are intact. Patient has intact hearing to light sound on both sides. Eyes the patient's pupils are equally round and reactive to light. Extraocular muscles are intact. Neck is supple with no masses or bruits. There is no adenopathy. There is no JVD. Thyroid is palpably normal with no masses. Thyroid rises and falls normally on swallowing. Chest reveals good breath sounds bilaterally. No rales or rhonchi. Symmetric rise and fall of chest bilaterally. Heart is of regular rate and rhythm. There are no gallops rubs or murmurs. There is no palpable cardiac thrill. There is a normal radial and carotid pulse. Abdomen is soft nontender and nondistended. There is no organomegaly on exam. There are no hernias on exam. There are normal bowel sounds. Extremities are warm normal palpable pulses.
Assessment/Plan
1. Hemorrhoids K64.9
Patient's initial complaint and presentation was for hemorrhoidal disease. Patient has had hemorrhoidal disease for about 10 years. Patient does not take any fiber supplements. I have advised the patient to start taking fiber supplements. This will help bulk up her stool and make her incidence of symptomatic hemorrhoidal disease decrease. Patient also understands it may take 2 to 3 months before the fiber starts having any significant effect.
2. History of colon polyps Z86.010
The patient also has a history of colon polyps on her last colonoscopy was about 6 years ago. I have recommended a high risk screening colonoscopy to the patient. I have explained the procedure and its risks in great detail and provided the patient with written literature on the same. The risks of the procedure include but are not limited to post procedure bleeding infection and perforation. This could necessitate exploration through a laparotomy or thoracotomy with repair resection or diversion of any injured area in the form of an ostomy. There is a chance of false negative exam meaning that there possibly would be a lesion that would not be visualized at the time of endoscopy. This could delay the discovery of this lesion and possibly have negative consequences for the patient. There is a chance of incomplete visualization of the colon. This could necessitate completion radiologic studies. The patient understands this and wishes to proceed.

Radiology Report
EXAMINATION: XR ANKLE, MIN 3 VIEWS, RT and XR FOOT COMPLETE, MIN 3 VIEWS, RT
Date: 4/11/2022 6:09 PM
History: Female, 69 years old. Pain after trauma. Tech Notes: --Pain after fall at the park. Swelling and bruising to top lateral side of foot and lateral side of ankle. No surgery

COMPARISON: None.

Technique: Right ankle 3 views; foot 3 views.

ANKLE FINDINGS:
Bones: Nondisplaced transverse, intra-articular, right lateral malleolus fracture
Joint: Normal alignment.
Soft tissues: Moderate soft tissue swelling over the right malleolus.

FOOT FINDINGS:
Bones: Comminuted intra-articular right proximal right 5th metatarsal fracture.
Joint: No malalignment.
Soft tissues: Moderate soft tissue edema in the lateral aspect of the right foot.

IMPRESSION:
Ankle:
1. Nondisplaced transverse, intra-articular, right lateral malleolus fracture
2. Moderate soft tissue swelling over the right malleolus.

Foot:
1. Comminuted intra-articular right proximal right 5th metatarsal fracture.
2. Moderate soft tissue edema in the lateral aspect of the right foot.

Radiology Report
EXAMINATION: XR ANKLE, MIN 3 VIEWS, RT
Date: 6/1/2022 10:34 AM
History: Female, 69 years old. AFTERCARE FOLLOWING SURGERY Tech Notes: -- Pt states routine 6 week f/u right ankle ORIF.

COMPARISON: 11 April 2022, 4 May 2022.

Technique: Right ankle 3 views.

FINDINGS:

Bones: A metallic plate and multiple screws transfix a fracture of the distal fibula. Margins of the fracture are becoming indistinct indicating that healing is occurring. A single screw also transfixes a fracture of the proximal 5th metatarsal. The margin of this fracture also is becoming indistinct indicating that healing is occurring. Minimal plantar and Achilles spurring of the attachments to the calcaneus is noted. Calcification in the Achilles tendon also is noted.

Joint: Normal alignment.

Soft tissues: Unremarkable.

IMPRESSION:
1. Satisfactory internal fixation, alignment, and progression towards healing of fractures of the distal fibula and the proximal 5th metatarsal.
2. Calcaneal spurring.
3. Calcification of the Achilles tendon.
